BUSY AT UNION STATION

Outposts Are Guarded Closely by "Scouts" Wearing Marcel Waves.

RAGGED, GIVES DOLLAR

Man Who Was "Laid Up" at St. Mary's Surprises a Solicitor.

At the bright, fair dawning of Hospital Saturday in St. Louis an army of 2000 elegantly clad, marcelle-waved matrons and girls descended upon the downtown district to collect tribute for the sick poor in those hospitals which give free treatment. Many of the best-known society leaders were assigned to the 50 stations, in charge of squads of women, and as by magic the yellow tags denoting contributions appeared upon thousands of coat lapels.

The Saturday and Sunday Hospital Association, which has charge of the collections, predicts that this year's contributions will exceed those of last year, which amounted to $20,546.09. Collections for the cause will be taken up tomorrow in all the churches.

Union Station Is Patrolled.

At the Union Station 200 girls and women took possession of every avenue of entrance and escape at 6:30 a. m., and a tax was levied on every one arriving, leaving, or casually passing through.

One pretty outpost even took her stand in the street, her skirts fluttering in the wind, to catch those alighting from street cars. Laborers and men of fortune, poorly dressed and well dressed women, black and white—all were grist which came to the collectors' mill.

"Gen." Mrs. Baumhoff Busy.

In the main waiting room, at a table embowered with flowers, sat Mrs. F. W. Baumhoff, the general, giving swift directions to her staff as they tripped up for instructions, dropping their collections into a large glass jar. Besides her table, there were eight others in various parts of the station.

The "Midway" was filled with beautifully dressed girls. They streamed out into the train sheds and instantly were busy among the crowds of travelers.

Others rushed up the steps to the dining room, while still others invaded the lunchroom and besought contributions from men as the latter gobbled pie and sandwiches.

Ragged Man Gives Dollar.

Rarely did they meet with a refusal. A ragged man, doubtfully approached by a young girl and informed that the smallest contributions were welcome, surprised her by pulling a silver dollar from his pocket and handing it over "I was laid up six months in St. Mary's," he explained.

Mrs. Baumhoff, in fear that the financial stringency might diminish the usual contributions at the Union Station, asked the 100 young girls on her staff to write to their sweethearts, requesting them to come to the station or send contributions.

The enterprising and popular young women, according to Mrs. Baumhoff, contrived to muster an average of 10 sweethearts apiece, and sent out 1000 letters.

500 Tags Used Up.

Mrs. Baumhoff and her staff were furnished with 500 tags when they began work, but these were exhausted in half an hour. Five thousand more were obtained hastily, and deep inroads were made on these during the morning. She and her helpers will remain on duty until 11 p. m.

Mrs. Baumhoff's assistants were Mrs. F. W. Biebinger, Mrs. C. M. Keys, Mrs. Oscar Enders, Mrs. J. R. Holton, Mrs. G. G. Bradford, Mrs. Frank A. Linne[illegible]an, Mrs. E. P. Sommers, Mrs. S. C. L[illegible]tein, Mrs. James Alcorn, Mrs. E. [illegible]e, Mrs. Anna Wilder, Mrs. W. E. [illegible]ock, Mrs. Horace Applegate, Mrs. [illegible] Broderick, Mrs. John W. Cornelius, [illegible]r. Phil Seaman, and 200 women and 25 men.

Big Buildings Under "Siege."

Similar scenes were enacted at the Bank of Commerce, Board of Education, the Buckingham, Carleton Building, Century Building, Century Theater, Chemical Building, City Hall, Columbian Club, Columbia Theater, Commercial Building, Commonwealth Trust Building, Equitable Building, Frisco Building, Fullerton Building, Garrick Theater, Grand Opera House, Hamilton Hotel, Holland Building, Jefferson Hotel, Laclede Hotel, Lincoln Trust Building, Liggett Building, Marquette Hotel, Mechanics-American National Bank, Mercantile Club, Mercantile Library, Merchants' Exchange, Mermod & Jaccard Building, Missouri Athletic Club, Missouri Pacific Building, Missouri Trust Building, Moser Hotel, Odd Fellows' Building, Olympic Theater, Planters Hotel, Pierce Building, Postoffice, Rialto Building, Security Building, Southern Hotel, Syndicate Trust Building, and the Victoria, Wainwright and Wright buildings.

MAYOR OF ILLINOIS TOWN RESIGNS BECAUSE SIDEWALK IS LAID WHILE HE IS GONE

His Action Causes Interesting Queries Concerning St. Louis Officials.

Mayor Michael of Assumption, Ill., has resigned because the town Council laid a sidewalk while he was out of town, press dispatches say. The Mayor did not want the sidewalk put down. Though a majority of the voters were for it, he said that it would involve unnecessary expense and wouldn't be of any use except in wet weather.

The Council was dead set on having the sidewalk. It waited until the Mayor took a little trip to Pana and had the work rushed through. It is suggested that Mayor Michael's action may set a new precedent for officials, and these questions are asked:

"Would Mayor Wells resign if somebody built a free bridge while he wasn't looking?"

"If Smoke Inspector Jones turned his back and somebody inspected the St. Louis smoke blanket, would he quit in a blue funk?"

"Would Chief of Police Creecy resign if somebody were to capture the saloon robbers?"

SONS GET $7000 IF SOBER

Father's Will Provides Illinoisans Must Report to Court.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 30.—Only by riding high on the "water wagon" can William A. Herscher and Charles Herscher of Kankakee County get possession of $7000 each, left them by the will of their father. The elder Herscher left an estate valued at about $38,000, of which legacies of $7000 are to go to each of his five children.

But the condition is made that William and Charles must become teetotalers and lead sober, industrious, upright lives. The Probate Court is to be the deciding tribunal and the two sons will submit evidence that they are "being good" in order to get the neat sums of money which are theirs if they "look not on the wine when it is red."

CRACKSMEN GET $4000, ALL OF BANK'S CASH

Robbers Blow Open Safe at New Franklin, Mo., With Nitroglycerin.

NO ONE IS AWAKENED

Tools Are Stolen From Blacksmith Shop and Bandits Enter by Window.

Robbers used nitroglycerin to blow open the doors of a large vault and a smaller safe of the bank at New Franklin, Mo., 160 miles west of St. Louis, early Saturday, and got away with all the cash in the bank, $4000.

They stole the drills and the tools which they used from a blacksmith shop half a block from the bank.

To prevent the noise of the explosion from being heard they wrapped the vault and the safe with pieces of carpet and, though they used heavy charges, no one in New Franklin was awakened.

Cashier Discovers Theft.

The robbery was discovered by Cashier Lilburn Kingsbury when he went to open the bank at 8 a. m.

He found the door of the big vault torn from its hinges and lying in the middle of the floor, 20 feet from where it ought to be. Near it was the door of the smaller of two safes which sat inside the vault.

The larger safe, which contained only books and papers, had not been touched, but the smaller one had been thoroughly rifled. Every cent of the bank's cash had been taken, including several packages of copper pennies.

An open window at the rear of the building showed where the robbers had made their entrance and exit.

There were no tracks of horses or wheel prints near the bank. It is believed that the robbers rode into town on an M., K. & T. freight train, which passed through New Franklin at midnight, and departed on a passenger train at 2 a. m., when two fast trains, one going east and the other west, make connections there.

The last statement issued by the bank showed that it had assets valued at $154,885 and deposits of $106,492. The cash on hand at that time amounted to less than $4000.

For the capture of the robbers Gov. Folk offers $300, the Bankers' Association $500 and an insurance company $200, and other offers bring the reward to $2000. The bank carried $5000 burglar insurance and is capitalized at $25,000.

TWO KILLED AS ELEVATOR DROPS WITH BIG LOAD

Twenty Persons in Car That Falls Ten Stories to Basement.

THREE FATALLY HURT

Screams of Victims Cause Panic in Chicago Clothing Factory.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Two persons were killed outright, five were fatally injured and at least eight other seriously injured today when the elevator in the Ederheimer-Stein & Co. clothing manufacturing building, Jackson boulevard and Fifth avenue, fell from the tenth floor.

Twenty passengers were in the car. An inexperienced operator had allowed it to become overloaded and the cable broke at the tenth floor. Seven of the passengers escaped with slight injuries, by falling on top of the bodies of the other occupants when the car hit the floor of the basement.

An unknown man, 50 years old, not employed in the building, and Jacob Scrameck, 45, were killed outright. Rose Grantman, 16 years old; Harry Koenig, 19, and Meyer Kohen, 43, and two others were fatally injured.

Screams Caused Panic.

Wild scenes attended the flight of the crowded car down the shaft. Those caught in the trap screamed for aid and the workers on each floor were thrown into such panic that the management immediately closed the plant.

The elevator was smashed to bits and the dead and injured had to be dug from the debris.

The elevator's card showed the last official inspection was Dec. 13, 1904, but the manager, I. H. Cohen, said it was inspected every morning by the engineer. Leo Considine, 21, the elevator man, was arrested. He was slightly injured.

TWO KILLED IN DISPUTE OVER WHICH SHOULD CARVE TURKEY

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 30.—A Fulton (Ky.) special says that on Thanksgiving day, Wade Witherspoon shot and killed Dock West and a man named Nunley enar Oakton in a dispute which arose over who should carve the turkey.

After the shooting Witherspoon sat down and ate a full meal before arrested.

JOSEPHINE ROEDEL

FORTUNE-TELLER PREDICTED DEATH

This Scared 270-Pound Clinton H. Stillman and Caused Him to Leave Home.

Because his horoscope as read by a fortune teller showed he would meet some horrible fate in the year 1908, Clinton H. Stillman is endeavoring to extract all the fun he can from life before New Years, according to his wife, Mrs. Mabel Stillman.

Mrs. Stillman says he left her and their home in Eldora, Io., seven weeks ago on this account, and she has been unable to find him since, although she has been on his track the entire time.

Their relations are very friendly, Mrs. Stillman told Detective Smythe at Police Headquarters Saturday, and he is merely preventing her from finding him in order that he may have " a whole lot of fun" before the fate predicted by the fortune teller overtakes him.

In Chase of Pleasure.

Mrs. Stillman says when he left Eldorado he went to Omaha. From there he wrote her telling his reason for remaining away and giving his address. She hurried there, only to find he had departed the day he mailed the letter.

From Omaha she traced him successively to Kansas City, St. Joseph and St. Louis. Detective Smythe will try to find Stillman. He is 35 years old, weighs 270 pounds and is 5 feet 9 inches tall.

NORDICA IS SAID TO HAVE BROKEN $50,000 CONTRACT

Second Highest-Salaried Singer Depressed by Failure to Capture New York Audiences.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Mme. Lillian Nordica, second highest salaried singer in the world, is reported to have broken her contract at the Manhattan Opera House, which called for $50,000 for 30 appearances this season. Caruso is the only singer who receives more salary.

It is said that Nordica's recent illness was caused by her failure to capture the New York audiences this year as she formerly did. She is not on the bill for next week and she was not cast this week.

CRAZED LOVER SHOOTS AT HIS SWEETHEART AND KILLS SISTER

Two Women Returning From Theater With Another Soldier When Shot Was Fired.

DES MOINES, Io., Nov. 30.—Crazed with jealousy, Ray Howard, a soldier at Fort Des Moines, fired a shot last night at Mabel Adair, who had jilted him, but missed her and killed her sister, Mrs. Martha Dickering.

The two women, in company with Alexander McIntosh, another soldier, returning home from the theater, met Howard near their home. Howard is in Jail.

Policemen Suspended.

Policemen Herman Eilers and Victor Short of the Soulard Street District were suspended Saturday on a charge of entering saloons not in the performance of police duty. Lieut. Singleton caught Eilers in a saloon at Eighth street and Park avenue. Short was seen by Capt. Reynolds of Central District in a saloon at Twelfth and Spruce streets.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press. In addition it receives the service of the United Press and maintains a leased wire to its New York Bureau. Its news-gathering organization is unsurpassed in the United States. No other St. Louis newspaper approaches it.

GIRL LEFT HOME AFTER SCOLDING

Josephine Roedel Disliked Parental Discipline That Stopped Outings.

Parental discipline proved distasteful to 15-year-old Josephine Roedel of 3252 Regal place, and her parents believe this is why she ran away from home. She has been missing since Nov. 18.

Josephine is blonde, blue-eyed, and looks older than her years. She is 5 feet 5 inches tall, and wore a black skirt, white waist, dark brown coat and brown hat when she left home.

Prior to her disappearance Josephine worked downtown, and when her father asked her for her wages she told him she hadn't been paid. He told her to come home at 6 p. m. the evening of Monday Nov. 18, and she did not appear until 8 o'clock, which angered him. Mary Mahowski, a girl friend, accompanied her, and Roedel told her to take Mary back to the street car. She did so and has not been seen since at home.

Roedel asked the police to search at Mary's home, 1550 South Broadway, but Mary said she didn't know where Josephine was.

Roedel says he reprimanded his daughter several times for staying out late evenings, and intended to reprimand her again the evening she ran away.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT THE STRINGENCY I'LL EVEN TAKE CERTIFIED JEWELRY!
NOV 30 07

The official weather forecaster may be hauled into Judge Tracy's court for permitting old Boreas' chauffeur to violate the city speed ordinances. The wind was galloping around St. Louis at a speed of 30 miles an hour at 1:30 p. m. today, decidedly against the comfort and dignity of pedestrians, especially women.

The flurry was accompanied by a drop in temperature. The wind made it disagreeable and seemingly colder than it was. There is no danger, according to the weather officials, of rain or snow during the next 24 hours, although the sky is overcast with heavy clouds.

The official forecast is:

Fair and colder Saturday night. Sunday fair and continued cool. Brisk and high northwest winds, diminishing and becoming variable Sunday. Minimum temperature will be 26 degree.

The river stage at St. Louis, 5.9, unchanged.

PRIEST BELIEVED TO HAVE LOST LIFE IN CONVENT FIRE

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 30.—A telephone message received from Covington, La., states that the St. Joseph's Academy, St. Joseph's Convent and other buildings, are burning and that a priest is believed to have been cut off by flames and burned to death.

HOUSE A DISGRACE, VOTERS TO BLAME, SAYS GRAND JURY

Blackmailing Practices and Employment of Legislative Agents Shown, Report Declares.

RETENTION OF NAUGHTON ON PAYROLL CONDEMNED

Presence of Nine Saloon Keepers in Legislative Body Is Made Text of Warning to Liquor Interests to Keep Out of Politics.

DENUNCIATION OF HOUSE COMBINE EMBODIED IN OFFICIAL REPORT

THE House of Delegates, as constituted and controlled, is a menace to decency, order and good government, and is a disgrace to the citizenship of St. Louis.

It is a regrettable and lamentable fact that those members who have the capacity and are disposed to render honorable public service are in a hopeless minority, subject to the jibes, taunts and billingsgate of those who control.

We are confident that this majority (House combine) was not organized to further or promote any legitimate political or parliamentary policy, but for ulterior purposes which have brought reproach upon the entire membership.

The character of the combine is reflected by the selection of officers some of whom are absolutely unfitted for any position of public or private trust.

Legislation of the most beneficial public character has been denied. The conduct of members on private and corporation bills indicates an adroitly cloaked purpose of blackmail, and the legislative agent made no concealment of his purpose, but proposed his fee.

Many irregularities in city contracts have been disclosed. These are due largely to the political apathy of good citizens.

Nine members of the House of Delegates are engaged in liquor traffic. Prohibition will become an accomplished fact unless the liquor interests are divorced from politics.

The House of Delegates is mercilessly excoriated in the report of the October grand jury, submitted to Judge Muench at noon Saturday. The House, as it is organized and controlled, is characterized as a "menace to decency, order and good government and a disgrace to the citizenship of St. Louis."

"The members of the House who have the ability and honesty to faithfully represent their constituents," the report says, "are in a hopeless minority, and are subject to the jibes, taunts and billingsgate of those in control." The House combine of 18 members is scored as an organization of ulterior motive and purpose, which has justly brought reproach upon the entire membership.

This stinging denunciation of the House of Delegates is the result of the grand jury's investigation of charges of bribery, which resulted in the indictment of F. W. Priesmeyer of the First Ward and Ferd Warner of the Second Ward for bribery in connection with the passage of a garage bill.

Henry Ascher, who had the bill introduced in the House, is alleged to have paid, under the direction of Mayor Wells and Circuit Attorney Sager, $500 to have it passed. Followinig this incident, which led to the arrest of Priesmeyer and Warner on the floor of the House, the Grand Jury devoted practically all of its time to investigation of municipal corruption.

The evidence which the grand jury, of which George T. Riddle was foreman, unearthed, was the basis on which the jury denounced the House as a disgrace to St. Louis.

Council Is Complimented.

The grand jury compliments the Council as a body, composed in the main of men of high ability, dignity and standing, whose deliberations are guided solely by consideration of public interests and welfare.

The citizens of St. Louis are censured for not taking enough interest in politics to elect men to the House of the same high standing as the members of the Council. The grand jury took a rap at the saloon men in the House of Delegates. It declares that the saloon is not the best school for the training of legislators, and that threatened prohibition in this State will become a fact unless the liquor interests are divorced from politics.

Saloon men are warned that it will be safer for them, as well as best for the public, if there is a decided diminution in their political activities.

Corporations also are warned that it would be well for them not to perpetuate "undesirable citizens" in political power for their own interests.

Menace to Decency.

Daniel E. Naughton, the assistant clerk of the House of Delegates, who refused to answer questions during the bribery investigation, is characterized as wholly unfit for any position of public or private trust. After complimenting the Council, the grand jury reverts to the House and pays its respects to that body in the following vigorous language:

"With the House of Delegates, the situation is entirely different. This body, as constituted and controlled, is a men-

PREACHER SAID DEVIL MADE HIM CHOKE HIS WIFE

Mrs. Julia Sweeten, Suing for Divorce, Tells of Alleged Mistreatment.

Mrs. Julia Sweeten of 3024 Lawton avenue, a self-possessed and handsome young brunette, declared, in testifyin[illegible] in her divorce suit before Judge Shiel[illegible] Saturday, that her husband, Rev. Ho[illegible]ard W. Sweeten, an evangelist, offer[illegible] her $200 three days after their las[illegible] reconciliation if she would permit him to get a divorce by default so that he could marry another woman. Her answer, she said, was to order him from her mother's house, where they lived.

On two occasion, she continued, he choked her, and then fearfully tried to excuse himself by pleading that the devil had temporary possession of him. He stayed out late five night a week, she said, and failed to support her and their 8-year-old daughter, Mildred.

Offered No Defense.

The evangelist failed to appear to defend himself. Mrs. Sweeten's testimony was corroborated by her mother, Mrs. B. A. Barnes.

The couple were married in Evan[illegible]ville, Ind., on May 2, 1898 and mov[illegible] to St. Louis a few months later. They were separated in November, 1900. In May, 1906, six years later, Mrs. Sweeten filed suit for divorce, but dismiss[illegible] it at the entreaty of her mother, who arranged a reconciliation. The couple lived together three days, when Rev. Sweeten made, according to his wife, the proposition to pay her for letting him get a divorce. Judge Shields took the case under advisement.

JURY IS SHOWN FATAL PISTOL IN BRADLEY TRIAL

Government Attorney Forced to Halt Argument When Overcome.

WOMEN CROWD COURT

Defendant Shows Emotion When Relic of Crime Is Produced.

PRECEDENT HER HOPE

"Unwritten Law" Used as Plea Saves Many Slayers.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Passionate oratory marked the proceedings today in the trial of Mrs. Annie M. Bradley, charged with the shooting and killing of former Senator Brown of Utah in this city last December. The courtroom was unable to accommodate the great number of persons who came to witness the last scenes of the tragedy that has attracted national attention for nearly a year.

Mrs. Bradley came into court as it fully alive to the importance of the proceedings. The day was devoted to hearing arguments by attorneys on both sides of the case. Assistant District Attorney Turner opened for the Government, and he was followed by Mr. Wells of counsel for the defense.

Mr. Turner proceeded in a matter of fact way to define the law in relation to the crime committed, and followed with a review of salient incidents of the testimony.

Fatal Pistol in Court.

While he was describing the scene of the killing of Brown, an attendant delivered to the District Attorney a package containing the pistol which had been used by Mrs. Bradley.

As the weapon was uncovered and laid at a convenient place near the speaker Mrs. Bradley lowered her head and her frame was shaken by a convulsive sob. Closing her eyes she remained as if in a stupor, only occasionally looking toward the jury and watching their faces.

The attorney insisted the jury should cast aside all sentiment and treat the case exactly as if a man had done the shooting. He exhibited the pistol to the jury. As he proceeded the attorney turned pale and leaned on a nearby table, paused, and then sat down. He had been overcome by emotion and a nervous shock. Leaving the room for a few moments with the District Attorney, the Court suspended the proceedings until he returned and resumed his argument, which was eloquent and at times impassioned.

Mr. Turner concluded at 12:10 with the statement that Mrs. Bradley's act was that of a sane person deliberately planned. Robert Wells then opened for the defense.

Mr. Wells was so impressive that the defendant nearly fainted. Judge Powers, one of her counsel, sought to divert her mind by talking to her, but she brushed him away and listened closely to what Mr. Wells was saying. Mr. Wells concluded at 12:47 and court adjourned until Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

"Unwritten Law" Saves Slayers.

All the evidence is before the jury trying Mrs. Annie M. Bradley in Washington, D. C., for killing ex-Senator Arthur M. Brown.

Her technical defense is insanity, but it is clear that her attorneys are basing their defense on the "Unwritten Law." This plea has been successful in many instances during the past year and in none of the noted cases where it has been made has the defendant been punished though there have been two convictions and one hung jury. In one of the convictions an appeal has been taken and in the other a pardon was issued after a higher court had confirmed the conviction.

Philip and James Strothers were placed on trial in Culpepper, Va., Feb. 21 for killing their brother-in-law, William F. Bywaters on the night of Dec. [illegible] a few hours after he had been mar- [illegible] to their sister, Miss Violet Strothers. The brothers had forced Bywaters [illegible] marry their sister because of his intimacy with her and they shot Bywaters as he was leaving the Strothers home on the night of the wedding against the wishes of the brothers. Philip and James, the latter a member of the West Virginia Legislature, pleaded justification under the "higher law" and were acquitted. Judge Harrison thanked the jury.

One Acquitted in Missouri.

Arthur Sanderson was acquitted early in the year in Carthage, Mo., after his trial, on the charge of killing Dr. S. D. Meredith, the family physician. To her usband Mrs. Sanderson had confessed timacy with Dr. Meredith and Sanderson called the physician to his home ly in the morning and killed him. The ter pleaded the "unwritten law."

s. Angie Fox Birdsong, a member a well-known Mississippi family and cousin of United States Senator McLaurin, shot and killed Dr. Thomas Butler, her physician, at his office in Monticello, Miss., last year. She pleaded justification under the "higher law," because, she said, her victim had slandered her without cause. A jury at Hazlehurst convicted her of manslaughter and sentenced her to five years in the Penitentiary. The Supreme Court upheld the conviction and immediately Gov. Vardaman pardoned her.

Thaw Case Most Noted.

Chief among the cases where the "unwritten law" was directly or indirectly invoked is that of Harry K. Thaw, son of the late Pittsburg millionaire, who shot and killed Stanford White, noted architect, on Madison Square Roof Garden, on the night of June 25, 1906. He was put on trial Jan. 23, 1907, and Feb. 4 the taking of testimony began. Thaw's counsel pleaded that he was insane at the time he killed White because of the story his wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, had told him of her ruin by the architect.

District Attorney Jerome in his opening address said there was no "unwritten law." That the prisoner and his counsel resorted to this so-called "higher law" was evidenced when the slayer's young wife took the stand Feb. 7 and on that day and the next told such a story of her wronging by White as perhaps has never been equaled in the history of American courts. A commission appointed by Justice Fitzgerald to inquire into the mental condition of the celebrated prisoner reported April 4 that he was sane. In his closing address to the jury, Thaw's chief counsel, D. K. Delmas, defined Thaw's insanity at the time of the killing as "Dementia Americana," and virtually asked Thaw's acquittal under the "unwritten law." The jury retired April 10, and on the evening of April 12 reported a disagreement. Thaw is awaiting a second trial.

St. Louis Policeman Convicted.

Patrolman Micheal McNamara of St. Louis shot and killed his young wife, Nellie McNamara, from whom he was separated, and her escort, James J. Brophy, a bartender, in the Hotel Royal, Eighteenth and Olive streets, on the night of Aug. 23, 1906. The tragedy occurred just after the pair had registered.

McNamara was first tried for killing his wife and was convicted of murder in the second degree, April 27, 1907. The punishment was fixed at 15 years in the Penitentiary. Judge Sale Sept. 25 overruled the motion of McNamara's counsel for a new trial and sentenced the former policeman to 15 years in the Penitentiary. An appeal was taken and he is at liberty on $12,000 bond.

W. G. Loving, former member of the Legislature and County Judge, manager of Thomas F. Ryan's estate at Oak Ridge, Va., shot and killed Theodore Estes April 23. He charged Estes with drugging and attacking his 19-year-old daughter, Elizabeth Loving. He set up a defense based on the preservation of the sanctity of the home and was acquitted at Houston, Va., June 29. Miss Loving testified in her father's behalf.

A member of the jury said insanity was the basis of the verdict. He said the jury believed Judge Lovin's stress was brought on by the story Miss Loving told him of her experience with Estes.

ACCUSED MEN AND FRIENDS GO ARMED

By Long Distance Telephone to the Post-Dispatch.

RISON, Ark., Nov. 30.—The preliminary hearing of Mrs. Sue McCartney, Jesse Strong and Ed Richards, charged with complicity in the triple assassination at Clio, growing out of a lumber trade feud, began here today. Rison is the county seat of Cleveland County, in which Clio is located.

The three defendants, through their attorneys—S. M. Taylor and State Senator W. S. Amis—have asked that the hearing be waived and that they be held for the grand jury. State's Attorney T. Havis Nixon and his assistant, George S. Brown, are objecting to this. They want W. H. Jamieson, an eyewitness to the assassination, placed on the stand. He saw Bush, Godfrey and McEwan shot at the Clio railroad station.

Jamieson and his wife are staying at the Sheriff's home and are guarded by armed officers.

The preliminary hearings are being held before Justice J. H. Henderson, whose office is in the business district of Rison. The courtroom is crowded and crowds fill the streets, there being present 100 employes of the Grant Lumber Co., all generally supposed to be heavily armed.

Rumor also credits W. C. Cotton, Postmaster J. J. Prince and Bert McCartney, the three other accused persons, with having arms in their possession. They are at the Sheriff's house, not having been actually placed in jail, although they are technically in custody.

It was expected that they would be given a preliminary hearing, but Coroner W. H. Niven announced that he would order them held without bail to await the action of the grand jury, which meets in two weeks.

Rison, thus far, is quiet.

RUNAWAY GIRL AND CHILDREN TO WHOM SHE IS A MOTHER

"LITTLE MOTHER" GOES BACK HOME

Father's Plea Causes Inex Willcockson to Abandon Plan to Leave Edwardsville.

There was a happy home in Edwardsville Saturday when Inez Willcockson, 16-year-old choir singer and "little mother," returned home to resume her work of caring for the household and her sister and two brothers.

J. C. Willcockson, her father, went to the matron's detention room at police headquarters and had a long talk with the runaway girl. His pleadings were so eloquent that she could not resist him, and there were tears in the eyes of both as they started for their home.

When Inez was found by her father in a boarding house at 2936 Locust street, where she had been working a week, she said that she left home because of the drudgery of looking after the household and that she would never go back to Edwardsville.

"WERE YOU EVER IN CUBA?" YOUNG BRIDE ASKS ROOSEVELT

Innocent Question Embarrasses the Commander-in-Chief of All the Armies.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—A certain young army officer is shivering in his boots today while all Washington laughs with glee at the demure manner in which his bride embarrassed the Commander-in-Chief of all the armies.

It was at the reception at the White House in honor of Admiral Evans and President Amador of Panama, when the bride, who recently returned from Cuba with her husband, was describing the wonders of the island to President Roosevelt.

"It is delightful," she said, "the climate is marvelous. The people are so sweet and hospitable and the scenery is grand—it is magnificent, superb."

Then, fearing she was too enthusiastic, she looked anxiously at the beaming face of the mighty warrior and asked: "Oh, Mr. President, were you ever in Cuba?"

DUMA CHAMBER CLEARED AFTER MEMBERS FIGHT

Cadet Leader Fiercely Denounces Stolypin's "Necktie Regime."

ATTACK WAS SURPRISE

Early Dissolution of the Body Expected Because of Outbreak.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 30.—Denunciation of the present government's "reign of murder" caused a riot in the Duma today. The session was hurriedly adjourned and the floor cleared by the gendarmes as the only means of preventing bloodshed between the radical and conservative members on the floor.

With the tornado ringing about him, Prof. Roditscheff, the cadet leader, who raised the storm, persisted in his attempt to conclude his excoriation of Premier Stolypin until literally dragged from the assembly hall. Beginning in a moderate tone, the orator suddenly shifted to a terrific denunciation of the numerous executions which have marked the present Cabinet's administration.

"Posterity," he shouted, "will remember this as Stolypin's 'necktie' regime!"

The conservatives, who had listened, horror stricken, to an address such as has never been heard in Russia before, seem to have recovered themselves simultaneously as Roditscheff reached this climax, and interrupted with a tempest of hoots, jeers and cries to the President to order the speaker to his seat.

Blows Exchanged in Chamber.

The radicals retorted with screams of approval of Roditscheff, and when the conservatives made a rush to overpower him they threw themselves in their way. Blows were already beginning to be struck when the President, after shrieking himself hoarse and pounding his gavel to splinters, declared the session adjourned and motioned to the gendarmes to clear the chamber.

The day's proceedings were the most startling which have marked any of the sessions of either this Duma or the two predecessors. For a body which was at first counted upon as conservative in its tendencies, the assembly has manifested such startling radicalism that the court party is dumfounded. The early dissolution of the gathering is anticipated.

Roditscheff was smuggled out of sight by his friends after this afternoon's adjournment.

INTERURBANS UNDER RAILROAD BOARD

Hadley Holds Commissioners Should Examine Electric Lines' Methods.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 30.—Attorney-General Hadley, in an opinion received today by the Board of Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners, holds that the interurban electric railways of the State are under the control of the Board, as well as the steam railroads.

Under this ruling, the Board will make regular examinations of the trackage of the electric railways doing an interurban business and will compel them to comply with the law regarding safety appliances and the law requiring them to keep their tracks in good condition.

The board will call on the interurban roads to make such reports as are required of the steam railroads. A recent examination of the law by Secretary Bradbury of the Board caused request for an opinion to be sent to the Attorney-General.

The electric railways affected by the opinion are the Interurban South Side Railways of Kansas City, the Southwest Missouri Electric Railway in Jasper County, the St. Louis, St. Charles & Western; St. Louis & East St. Louis Electric Railway, St. Louis & Meramec Railway and the St. Louis & Suburban.

PUPIL ELOPES WITH TEACHER

"Big Boy" Stays After School and Then Trip to Chicago Is Planned.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—When the pupils in Miss Olive McNeal's class at Byron, Ill., sang "We love our teacher," at least one of them meant it. Ralph Bump, one of the "big boys," stayed after school without any remorse of conscience.

Miss McNeal was 24. Young Bump was 17. The teacher represented Knowledge, and he longed for knowledge as personified in the teacher. Thanksgiving day the teacher and pupil eloped to Chicago and were married and today all Byron was discussing the shock it received. They gave their names and ages towit: Ralph Bump, 21, and Olive McNeal, 20.

Bump will continue his studies in a school where he will pay the board instead of tuition.

HOUSE "COMBINE" CALLED A MENACE TO DECENCY

Grand Jury, in Report, Denounces Delegates as Corrupt and Says Blackmailers Rule Passage of Bills.

ace to decency, order and good government, and is a disgrace to the citizenship of St. Louis.

"Personally, the majority of its members possessed neither the character nor the ability to qualify them for the discharge of their duties, and it is a lamentable and regretable fact that those members who have the capacity and are disposed to render honorable public service are in a hopeless minority; subject to the jibes, taunts, and billingsgate of those who control.

Dominated by "Combine."

"It appears that the House is dominated by an organization popularly known as a "combine," composed of eighteen members of the body. It is evident to us, and it is only fair to say, that all of the members of the 'combine' are not venal and corrupt, and that some of them may honestly have felt themselves compelled to join this majority in order to be in a position to obtain legitimate legislation for the constituencies which they represent."

"It is equaly as plain, that the combine is dominated by an inner circle who arbitrarily dictate the actions of their associates, and who are using the organization for their personal ends, advantages and gain.

"We are confident that this majority was not organized to further or promote any legitimate political or parliamentary policy, but for the ulterior purposes mentioned and which have justly brought reproach upon the entire membership.

Purposes Cannot Be Doubted.

"While politics or political affiliation should play no part in matters of municipal legislation, the organization of a legislative body goes properly to the party in control, and therefore, when there is found, as in the House of Delegates, a majority composed of both Republicans and Democrats, the conclusions to be drawn from the alliance are inevitable, and its purposes cannot be doubted.

"The character of the forces thus in control is reflected by their selection of the officers of that body, some of whom are absolutely unfitted for any position of public or private trust.

"Following the disclosure of bribery in connection with the passage of what is known as the Ascher garage bill, the Assistant Clerk of the House of Delegates, Daniel E. Naughton, remained away from the jurisdiction of the court and the grand jury for upwards of a week. When he gave himself up he was escorted to the Four Courts by his attorney, and when brought before the grand jury and afterwards before the court which had impaneled and instructed this body, contumaciously refused to answer questions with reference to his knowledge of the transaction under investigation on the ground that he might incriminate himself.

Still Retained by City.

"Despite the fact this witness publicly resorted to the constitutional plea and refused to testify on the ground that he might thus furnish evidence which would tend to criminate him, he is retained as an officer of the House of Delegates by that body in the pay of the City of St. Louis.

"Since then, upon the calling of the bribery cases in which indictments had been voted, an effort was made to procure service upon this witness, and again it was found that he had disappeared from his usual haunts and absented himself from his place of official duty with the evident purpose of evading the process of the courts of the State.

"In the appointment of another officer of this same body, is found further evidence of the low standard which inspired the actions of those in control and their conception of official duty and responsibility.

Useful Legislation Denied.

"We find that legislation of the most beneficial public character has been held up and denied, and that in practically all cases where private corporations or individuals were concerned in pending legislation, the parties in interest had been approached by members of the 'combine' or a reputed legislative agent. The conduct of the members, upon such occasions, did not disclose a desire for pertinent and legitimate information with reference to the measures in question, but on the contrary indicated a purpose, adroitly cloaked, of blackmailing the interests concerned regardless of the effect which their actions might have upon the general growth and prosperity of the city. The so-called 'legislative agent' made no concealment of his purpose, but proposed his fee, and intimated that if it were not forthcoming, the proposed or pending legislation would never materialize.

Not Cured of Graft.

"It is plain that St. Louis has not been permanently cured of the evil of official corruption, and that a well-conceived and deliberately planned movement, partially under way, had been inaugurated by its representatives to block private and public measures impartially unless criminal tribute was paid. A comparatively small number of men are directly involved whose identity and responsibility, we hope and believe will not much longer remain a matter of doubt."

The jury examined 76 witnesses and returned three indictments. The report says that the experiment of following out clews suggested in anonymous communications proved a failure. The practice of city officials becoming surreptitiously engaged in city contracts was dealt with briefly, with the statement that the next grand jury will continue the investigation.

Charter Called Inelastic.

The political ills from which St. Louis is suffering are organic, according to the grand jury, and cannot be remedied until the charter is amended or made over. The present charter is like our currency—not elastic. The grand jury deprecates the idea that members of the House of Delegates think they should represent one locality to the exclusion of the balance of the city. It is recommended that the House of Delegates be abolished, and be supplanted either by a commission or a uni-cameral body of limited membership, to the end that responsibility for the faithful discharge of public duties may be placed upon and assumed by men elected, not through political pull or ward popularity but because of their intelligence, character and ability.

Concealed Weapon Evil Unabated.

It is suggested that the police take more active measures to suppress the carrying of concealed weapons by hoodlums. The concealed weapon habit has not abated. It is recommended that a statute be enacted making it a felony to sell a deadly weapon without a special license, and with a provision that a record of every such sale be kept, with a description of the weapon and name and address of the purchaser.

A law of this kind will do away with the sale of cheap, second-hand weapons, which forfeit more lives than any other kind. It is suggested that the police be trained more thoroughly in gathering and presenting evidence in criminal cases, particularly in that class of homicides committed by notorious gangs.

The department is congratulated upon its improved efficiency.

All of the city institutions, with the exception of the City Hospital, are inadequate, and nothing short of a disgrace, according to the report. This is true especially of the Poorhouse and Insane Asylum. The report concludes by recommending strongly the immediate and judicious expenditure of funds to be derived from the contemplated bond sale, to ameliorate the conditions of the unfortunates dependent on the charity of the city.

EXPRESS CLERK MISSING; $5850 ALSO DISAPPEARS

Pacific Co. Offers Reward of $250 for Information About O'Connor.

A reward of $250 is offered for information as to the whereabouts of Thomas A. J. O'Connor, a spectacled young man with a soft southern accent, who was formerly money clerk at the Relay Depot in East St. Louis for the Pacific Express Co.

The company offered the reward after discovering that $5850, instead of only $850, as at first supposed, disappeared at the same time as the young man.

Money in Two Packages.

The money was in two packages, and was received last Friday at the East St. Louis office. The $850 package contained currency for a Peoria firm, and the other contained $5000 in bills of large denomination, one being for $1000.

O'Connor receipted for the packages and went to his boarding house at 713 Ohio avenue, where he roomed with Charles Zahnow. The young man's movements awakened Zahnow from sleep, but he turned over in bed without looking at O'Connor. The next morning he discovered that O'Connor's bed was unoccupied. Zahnow says his new overcoat disappeared with the young man.

The express company has special agents looking for O'Connor, but officials of the company said Saturday they had obtained no trace of him. His family lives in Mobile, and he went to East St. Louis from there Oct. 5.

Bank Reports Disappearance.

A bulletin issued by the express company, in which the reward is offered, says O'Connor drinks and smokes, and is "sporty." He is 24 years old, smooth-shaven, with black hair and large brown eyes, somewhat nearsighted. He wears gold-rimmed nose glasses.

The disappearance of the $5000 package was not discovered until a bank in Southern Illinois, to which it was consigned, made inquiries. The express company has caused a warrant to issue charging O'Connor with grand larceny.

SENATOR FORAKER OPENLY ANNOUNCES HIS CANDIDACY

SENATOR J. B. FORAKER.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Senator Foraker is out for the presidency. In an open letter to the League of Republican Clubs of Ohio he says that he does not want to appear as a candidate for two offices at the same time and that, therefore, he will withdraw from the race for the senatorship. He expresses his "heartfelt appreciation for the league's support of him as a presidential candidate."

Mr. Foraker criticises the present national administration for its policy toward business interests and says that his prediction that the passage of the railroad rate bill would cause financial depression has been proven correct.

DEPOSITORS WHO WITHDRAW GET ONLY HALF CASH

Trust Companies Pay Out "John Smiths" Under 30-Day Rule.

Savings depositors who are taking their money out of the trust companies under the 30-days' notice rule are receiving half cash and half in "John Smiths." The manager of the savings department of a trust company told a Post-Dispatch reporter Saturday that none of the depositors withdrawing their accounts were paid all currency.

Depositors are allowed to withdraw small amounts, half cash and half checks, from their savings accounts without giving notice. Persons who have given notice, however, and wish to withdraw their money before the expiration of the 30-day period are required to withdraw the notice before they can get any money. Unless the notice is withdrawn they must wait the full 30 or 60 days.

The trust company officials say that many persons who gave notice of their intention to withdraw their money have not called for it. Others thought they would have to give notice of their intention to withdraw the full amount in order to get money needed for current expenses. Persons who are asking for their money are usually asked what they want it for, and are not encouraged to withdraw it for hoarding.

Laborer Run Over by Train Hour After Arriving.

An hour after he arrived in St. Louis from Kansas City to go to work as a track laborer, Michael Novak was run over and probably fatally injured by a Wabash train, at Ohio avenue, Saturday.

Both of his legs were amputated at the City Hospital.

REPUBLICAN SAYS MANY PLOTTED TO KILL GOEBEL

Judge Testifies He Met Men on Street When Nitroglycerin Was Discussed.

POWERS IS PROMPTER

Kentucky Prisoner Makes Frequent Suggestions for Cross-Examination.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Nov. 30.—When court convened today in the trial of Caleb Powers for complicity in the assassination of Gov. Goebel there were not a dozen spectators in the courtroom.

Frank Thomas, a Capitol Square policeman, was the first witness. He was looking at Goebel when the shot was fired. He saw him fall and, with Officer Robinson, ran to Goebel and picked him up. When he heard the shot he said:

"They have killed Goebel."

Powers prompted his attorneys in questioning the witness, making frequent suggestions.

Republican a Witness.

Judge D. D. Field of Whitesburg, Letcher County, was placed on the stand. He is a leading Republican and was coming to Frankfort when Wharton Golden and many other men got on the train at the same point in Virginia.

Golden introduced them to him, saying that he was summoning witnesses in the contest. When Golden introduced him to Bert Lee, Golden said:

"He is the man who will kill them all."

At the same time, and in the presence of Lee, Golden asked the witness: "Is there a man in Letcher County who would kill Goebel?"

He said he told Golden that there were any number of men who would fight. Continuing his testimony, Judge Fields said:

"One man held up a cartridge, saying: 'This is the only argument that will convince a Goebelite.'"

Met Plotters on Street.

Judge Fields, cross-examined by Maj. Owens, told of meeting some of the men on the street, when they were suggesting plans for killing Goebel. One said:

"Take a bomb of nitroglycerin and kill him as he comes out of his room."

Another suggestion was to kill him by inserting a nitroglycerin cartridge under his door.

At another time, the witness testified, two men said they wanted to go home. Others said they must not go, that Powers and Finley had gone to the mountains after some men, and when they returned the contest would be settled in short order.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

MRS. BATES EXAMINES DECREE

O'Connor's Divorced Wife to Fight for Girl She Kidnaped.

Mrs. Marie Bates, divorced wife of Attorney John J. O'Connor, who last week kidnaped their 7-year-old daughter, Kathleen, from the Marquette School and placed her in St. Joseph's Convent, where she was recovered, visited the Clayton Courthouse Friday to obtain copies of the papers in O'Connor's divorce suit.

The decree does not mention the little girl, and Mrs. Bates will maintain, in the habeas corpus suit to be heard next week, that she has as good a right to the child as O'Connor.

Our Announcement in Monday Morning's Newspapers will contain news of the New Store's first great money-saving event.

PRICES OF PORK FIVE WEEKS AGO AND NOW

Wholesale Prices.

Retail Prices to Consumer.

	Today.	Five Weeks Ago.
Pork loins	12½c	15c
Boston butts	12c	12½c
Shoulders	10c	10c
Spare ribs	10c	10c

Who is getting the profits from the reduced cost of pork products—the packer or the butcher?

The packers are buying hogs on foot at from 2 to 3 cents a pound less than they were paying six weeks ago, and they are selling it to butchers at from 2 to 5 cents a pound cheaper. There has been no material reduction in price to the consumer.

Within the past six weeks the bottom has fallen out of the hog market. Hogs that were bringing $7 a hundred pounds before the financial stringency set in, sold last week at less than $4, but during the last week the price has gone up about 1 cent a pound.

Owing to the fact that they could buy the hogs much cheaper, the packers say they have been selling their products to the retailer at such material reductions that there is no excuse for the consumer to pay high prices for his pork chops.

Little Reduction for Beef.

Cattle that were selling at from $4 to $7 a hundred before the money famine can now be bought in the open market at from $4 to $5.50. According to the statements of the packers they are not giving the retailers the benefit of these reductions, except some slight decrease in the price of inferior cuts of meat.

The man with a porterhouse appetite is paying just as much for his steaks as he did before the panic. There has been no reduction in the price of either tenderloin or sirloin cuts, and likely will not be. The man whose system is well fortified and can digest shanks, flanks, chucks, clods, plates, necks and round steaks may get them a few cents cheaper, if his butcher gives him the benefit of the reduction in the wholesale price.

Livestock Being Held Back.

Farmers are holding back their livestock in the hope that prices will recover. There was received at the National Stock Yards Friday 2500 cattle of all grades, as compared with 4100 for the same day last year. Hog receipts were 5000, as compared with 9700, and sheep 800, which was the same number received a year ago. If normal shipments of hogs had been received at the stock yards in different parts of the country since the money stringency started prices would have been considerably lower than they are.

Packers say the decline in the market value of hides and tallow has prevented them from reducing the price of beef. Hides a year ago were in big demand at 17 cents a pound, and now they are not wanted at 6 cents. Packers say they could get $11.90 for a 70-pound hide a year ago, and that they now have difficulty in selling the same quality of hide for $4.20, a net loss to them of $7.70 on each steer.

About a year ago shoe manufacturers throughout the country increased the cost of shoes, owing, they said, to the high price of leather. At the present price of hides the shoe manufacturers ought to be able to buy leather at a little more than one-third of former prices. There has been no reduction in the price of shoes.

Butchers' Figures for Meat.

A retail butcher submits his bills from the St. Louis Dressed Beef Co. to the Post-Dispatch to show that he is paying more for meats than a year ago.

His figures, supported by the original bills, are:

	1907	1906.
Carcass beef	8½c	5½c
Rounds of beef	8½c	5½c
Livers	5½c	3c
Pork loins	10½c	10c
Sausage	8½c	7½c
Pork shoulders	8½c	8½c
Sirloin steaks	20c	15c
Porterhouse steaks	20c	15c
Round steaks	15c	12½c
Rib roasts	15c	12½c
Chuck roasts	10c	8 1-3
Pork chops	15c	12½c
Livers	2½c	5c

This butcher says his rent has advanced from $35 to $50 a month, clerk hire from $12 to $20 a week, paper from 2c to 3c a pound, twine from 10c to 25c a pound, wood trays from 65c to $1.25 a thousand, and horse feed has nearly doubled in price. Under these conditions he says the butcher has no easy road to fortune.

Slayer an Anarchist.

Ernest Hrazdiel, who for 20 minutes held at bay several hundred men following the shooting of his foreman, William Schramek, at the St. Louis Car Co. works, in Baden, a week ago, has been identified by Dr. Frank Whepley, an assistant at the St. Louis Insane Asylum, as an anarchist deported by the immigration authorities a year ago. Hrazdiel admits the charge, and says he sneaked into this country again at Galveston. He says he killed Schramek in self-defense.

ANANIAS CLUB SHOCKED BY DEATH OF CHINESE

Short, Ugly Word Causes Oriental in San Francisco to Give Up the Ghost Suddenly.

OLD MEMBERS CONSIDER CASE

HEADQUARTERS ANANIAS CLUB, Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—The Ananias Club held an extra session yesterday afternoon to discuss the unprecedented phenomenon which occurred in San Francisco, where a prominent Chinese dropped dead after being called a liar by the consul for his Government.

President Ben Tillman called the meeting to order. Deep grief was written in his face. His voice was husky and now and then broke into a quaver, almost a sob.

"Brethren of the Ananias Club," he began, in declaring the object of the meeting, "a dolorous thing has happened. A fellow-suffered with ourselves, though of Oriental race, was struck amidships by a short, ugly word and fatally wounded. He gasped and gave up the ghost.

"This is a matter that calls for consideration by the more doughty Caucasian race, yet I hardly know whether to weep for grief that a promising candidate for our club has met an untimely fate or whether to bow my head in sorrow that anyone, no matter what his race, should have gone down before the epithet, 'Liar.' What say you, members of the club?"

Harriman Is Skeptical.

A profound silence fell upon the assemblage. It was evident the catastrophe had made a deep impression on the minds of all present. E. H. Harriman, who had adjourned a 10-round go of the Illinois Central directors to be present, rose and was recognized by the chair.

"I am inclined to believe," said he, "that the report from San Francisco is garbled. I can't conceive a man's dying simply because he was called a liar. I think the late lamented Chinaman had been reading the sensational press. He had become prejudiced. He doubtless thought that being placed in the Ananias class, he would become 'undesirable' and he died of shame—shame born of ignorance.

"Yet we—the elect—know what it means to be called 'Liar.' In this country, where all corporations are free and equal, it is equivalent to a patent of nobility, an investiture of knighthood, to be called a falsifier. Surely—surely, our Celestial brother died of rank Oriental ignorance, aggravated by the mouthings of our yellow journals."

A round of applause swept the chamber as Mr. Harriman resumed his seat.

Storers Denounce Chinese.

"Mr. Chairman," said Bellamy Storer, "I think we ought to pass resolutions to set ourselves right before the world. This Chinese could not have qualified for our honorable organization merely by being called a liar. To be a genuine Fellow of the Order of Ananias one must not only be tried in the short, ugly word ordeal, but must withstand it, and right himself again gracefully, unscathed by the trial. Many are called liars, but only a distinguished few can claim fellowship with ourselves."

Maria said it was just as well things turned out as they did. She expressed disgust for the attempts of the rabble—Chinese and the like—to get into the exclusive circle of the Ananias Club.

"This probably was a preconcerted scheme on the part of that Chinese," she said, "but I'm sure his being called a liar would have passed unnoticed if it hadn't killed him. Bah! How vulgar—dyeing because a mere consul calls one a liar!"

William E. Chandler thought the affair another proof of the wisdom embodied in the Chinese exclusion laws.

"We want no people admitted to this country who can't stand being called liars," said he.

Was Probably a Mollycoddle.

Alton B. Parker was sure the dead Chinese must have been a mollycoddle instead of a liar.

"If he had been called a milksop or something of that kind," declared the Judge, "he probably would have taken it as a matter of course, but the word liar came so unexpectedly, so overwhelmingly, that he died of heart failure, being merely a mollycoddle."

Dr. Long spoke eloquently. Said he, in impassioned periods:

"I suppose a certain personage, who shall be nameless, will denounce this whole thing as a piece of rank nature faking. He will assert, with an I-am-the-whole-thing air, that Chinese do not die suddenly in consuls' offices and that the 'lie' of a consul is absolutely harmless.

"He will tell how he has watched Chinese in their native haunts, how he has seen them cook chop suey and iron shirts. He will proclaim that he has seen them in Oriental costume and observed them after they have adopted the attire of the Occident. He will fume and fuss and deny that any Chinese ever was killed by being called a liar, or that it is possible to kill one in that way. Possibly he will tell you that he, himself, has called many a Chinese a liar and nothing came of it."

After adopting a resolution advising all Chinese sojourning in the United States to avoid the White House, the meeting adjourned.

"BUTTER BEANS" RECEIVES $54.70 FOR RAINY DAY

Negro, Ill, Will Keep Money Contributed in Grocery Woman's Safe.

"Butter Beans" Williams, heroic negro youth, whose unselfish devotion to his family and whose present suffering from consumption have touched many hearts in St. Louis, called at the Post-Dispatch office Saturday morning and was handed the sum of $54.70, contributed by charitable people of this city.

"Butter Beans," who lives at Fourteenth and Pine streets, was grateful for this substantial evidence of sympathy on the part of so many people. He said it probably would make bright many a hard day to come.

"A lady who conducts a grocery store on Spruce street has promised to keep it for me in her safe," he said. "I am still able to work, washing bottles, most every day. But I probably won't be long, and this money will be a blessing to me when I do have to give up."

The list of contributions up to date is:

"Butter Beans" said that he desired, through the Post-Dispatch, to express his gratitude to everyone who had contributed to the fund.

SCHOLARSHIPS FOUNDED BY MISS GOULD AWARDED

Arkansas and Kansas Students Win Honors for Entrance to New York University.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—New York University announced today the awarding of two scholarships established by Helen Gould in memory of her father, Jay Gould. The first, known as the Jay Gould Southwestern scholarship, open to students living on Gould railroad lines in the Southwest, was given to Harry E. Mowen of Fort Smith, Ark. Claude E. Palmer of Osawatomie, Kan., won the second, which is open to residents along the Gould lines in the West and is known as the Jay Gould Western scholarship.

Both scholarships pay $270 annually.

Five other scholarships, aggregating $3340, established by Miss Gould, were distributed to students at the university during the week.

Policeman Shot by Burglar.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Patrolman Dennis J. O'Keefe was shot early today in an attempt to capture three burglars caught breaking into a building. The bullet penetrated his forehead. Three men giving the names of Hugh McKay, Dick Mathers and John Bates later were captured. O'Keefe has a chance for recovery.

DOGS PLAY JOKE ON CHICKEN AND RABBIT FANCIER

Two Canine Nature Fakers Substitute Selves for Fowls and Hares.

Morris Heimann had 50 chickens and a dozen rabbits, all alive and healthy, in the rear yard of his home at 5929 Julian avenue.

But, presto, nature-fake-o, they were turned into two St. Bernard dogs.

When Mr. Heimann arose Saturday he said to himself:

"I'll just make a run out and look at my pets."

He did. But he stopped short on the back stoop.

Two huge beasts were lying at either side of the porch, beasts as big as African lions, but much fatter. But there was no sign of chickens or rabbits except scattered feathers and little tufts of fur, which chased each other around the yard on the wings of the morning breeze.

The dogs were so full of fowl and game that they were unable to move. When Mr. Heimann cautiously approached and poked one of them with a long stick it just rolled over and grunted and looked at him wearily and appealingly as though to say:

"Please go way and let me sleep. I'm full of Thanksgiving."

The erstwhile owner of the chickens and rabbits says he doesn't want the foundered dogs and he has asked the police to help find out who owns them.

Judging from their present state of plethora he doesn't think the beasts of prey will be able to move for a week.

He was thinking of carting them around to the front of the house and using them for lawn statues when Sergt. Burke and two patrolmen arrived. It was learned that the dogs belong to Angelo Purrini of 6140 Bartmer avenue, and that they also killed 20 chickens belonging to R. L. Newberry of 5860 Bartmer avenue Saturday night.

The policemen telephoned to the City Marshal and had him send dog catchers to the Heimann home to round up the dogs. They wore no license tags and they were taken to the pound despite Purrini's protest.

Henke Funeral Sunday.

J. Edward Henke, vice-president of the Schroeter Bros. Hardware Co., who died Friday morning at his home, 4214 Labadie avenue, will be buried in Frieden's Cemetery Sunday afternoon. Services will be conducted by Rev. Louis G. Nollau. Employes of the hardware company will act as pallbearers. Mr. Henke is survived by his wife and 4-year-old daughter.

Woman's Nightmare

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.

BECOMES FORGER TO WIN BACK HER HUSBAND

New York Woman Confesses She Signed Deed at Man's Request.

GIRL IS GO-BETWEEN

Mother and Daughter in Prison While Father, a Lawyer, Is a Fugitive.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—"I know I did wrong; but I did it because I hoped it might bring my husband back to our home and five children. I am glad I have been found out. Now I can go to prison and there comfort my daughter."

Mrs. Henry A. Doellinger and her daughter, 18 years old, met in front of Magistrate Harris' bench in the old Central Street Court. Both were charged with forgery in the first degree, the maximum punishment for which is 20 years' imprisonment.

Alice Doellinger had been in prison some days. The girl's mother was arrested yesterday. There is a warrant for the husband of Mrs. Doellinger.

Lawyer Is Accused.

Henry A. Doellinger is a lawyer who at one time was connected with a German newspaper in this city. He is wanted for the alleged forgery of two checks. There are other charges against him, including larcenies of money from clients to whom he "sold" fradulent mortgages. It was in connection with these mortgages that the wife and daughter are accused.

Doellinger tried to raise $6000 on a mortgage alleged to have been given by a Mrs. Helen Ficke. Miss Alice acted as go-between at the direction of her father. Who was the Mrs. Ficke in the transaction was a mystery until Mrs. Doellinger confessed that she had impersonated that person.

"I confess all," the woman said. "My husband and I had been living apart over three years. He came to me one day and told me I could help him if I would sign a deed. He told me if I did he would give me $250, that with that money I could fix up a new home and that he would then come and live with us again. The night after I had signed the paper he came home and told me that he had to get out of town for a while at least.

Held on $5000 Bail.

Mrs. Doellinger was held in $5000 bail. Detectives were sent to the Tombs to bring Alice to court. When the girl saw her mother she threw her arms around her parent's neck and wept.

It was intimated at the District Attorney's office that mother and daughter may be released if the lawyer is caught.

Fire at Monte Carlo.

MONTE CARLO, Nov. 30.—Fire did heavy damage to the western tower of the palace of the Prince of Monaco. The firemen of the principality and the Casino had great difficulty fighting the blaze, but after four hours of hard work succeeded in extinguishing it.

POLICE THINK WOMAN "DREAMED" OF ROBBERY

Story of Attack by Three Men Is Investigated and Called Untrue.

The police say that Mrs. Agnes Costing, 825 South Seventh street, was dreaming when she was sandbagged and robbed by three men at Sixth and Papin streets at 8 p. m. Friday. Mrs. Costinig declares she knew what she was talking about when she reported the alleged robbery. She said when she recovered her senses after being struck, she caught one of the robbers who had her purse containing $13.80 and grabbed his watch chain. She would have held on to him, she said, had not a fireman interfered and forced her to give up the chain.

Mrs. Costing's story was investigated by Night Chief Gillaspy, Lieutenant Hess, of Central District, Sergeant Drissell and Detectives Fox and Dowell, and they report that neither robbery nor assault was committed.

An hour before she reported the alleged robbery Mrs. Costing called at Central District Station carrying a basket of stones. She told Lieut. Hess that she had ordered a turkey and "trimmings" from a butcher and he had sent her the stones.

"She's only dreaming," said Gillaspy.

The legitimate PAID circulation of the Post-Dispatch in St. Louis and its suburbs is greater than that of ALL other English Dailies COMBINED.

Walk Downstairs Causes Death.

Mrs. T. D. Otten, 71 years old, was found dead at the foot of the cellar stairs at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frederick Mueller, 4859 Page boulevard by Mrs. Mary Reckinger, a neighbor, Friday afternoon. A physician was called, but Mrs. Otten could not be revived. It is supposed that overexertion in walking down the steps caused her death.

Why?

MR. TAFT AND THE FAT MEN.

As Secretary of War it will be necessary for Mr. Taft, a 300-pounder himself, to take such official action as may seem proper as a result of the President's recent order compelling all army officers to engage in a 15-mile ride on horseback.

One of the cankers of a long peace is corpulency, and it appears that the President wearied of seeing about him so many soldiers of rank who resembled haystacks in blue and brass. Some of these rare old fighters were lean and hungry enough, no doubt, in their more youthful days, but long service at a desk, in a revolving chair, sumptuous and debilitating fare and freedom from war's alarms and anxieties have left their mark upon most of them.

The 15-mile ride was fatal to one officer; it disabled several others, and a few of them failed to make it because horses strong enough to carry them were not at hand. Naturally, something will have to be done about the matter, and to the rotund Mr. Taft falls the unpleasant task of disciplining the sleek brethren who sleep o' nights and who are better acquainted with the implements of the table than they are with those of the battle field.

A candidate for the presidency in an era of great prosperity, when most Americans have been living pretty well for some years, with lengthened waistbands the rule rather than the exception, Mr. Taft will have to be careful how he deals with the fat man issue.

RUNAWAY MOTORISTS.

Recently two individuals speeding in an automobile across King's highway at Arco avenue ran down an old man, and, seeing that he was badly injured, sped away before the number of their machine could be noted. The victim is in a critical condition, with the chances against recovery owing to his extreme age.

It is a pretty instance of humanitarian modernity that by comparison makes prerevolutionary France almost respectable. Even the nobles, who at last squared accounts by riding in tumbrels, were manly enough in many an instance to halt and inquire after the victims of their careering coaches.

These reckless motorists, confessing both culpability and cowardice by dodging the consequences, are hunted, with no prospect of catching them, by the police.

There is, however, a promising possibility of discovering them through the principle of setting a thief to catch a thief. Sooner or later their identities will likely be known to the gossip of the garages. Chauffeurs, who are nothing if not gossips, will be somehow informed; the bit of motor intelligence will seep into the atmosphere of gasoline; and probably the talk of the craft will be whispered by some confidential Gil Blas to his master.

So that there is presented here an opportunity perhaps for law-respecting motorists and other decent persons associated with motoring to aid in bringing the runaways to account with justice, and, in a way, to vindicate themselves. One flagrant case of this kind does more to lay the sport, and consequently the business, under the ban than a score of commonplace accidents.

If there is such a thing as sporting ethics among motorists, if there is any esprit de corps, they will adopt means among themselves to make this case their own.

THE CASES OF THE FILTHY DAIRIES.

The right of St. Louis to enforce its milk ordinances is upheld by the Supreme Court.

Now that its decision removes all excuse for delay and clears the way for action, officials should proceed at once to give the utmost practical effect to the provision for punishing dirty dairies or others which in any respect violate the ordinance.

Inability to enforce this ordinance has been blamed for the existence of many of the insanitary dairies. It should be determined as soon as possible whether its enforcement will avail for the Augean task.

Prompt and energetic action by prosecuting officials and courts is desirable, to the end, preferably that offending dairies may be "fined out of existence," as one prosecutor put it; or, on the other hand, that a thorough test of the law's operation may be had and its inadequacy clearly shown, as a basis for new legislation.

It is announced that the platforms of the United Railways' new cars will be considerably enlarged so as to hold 30 persons comfortably. This is specially encouraging in view of the fact that the company already carries 50 persons on the smaller platforms of the old cars.

THE GHOST OF JACKSON.

"Nothing stands in the way of a great national bank except the ghost of Andrew Jackson," exclaimed Mr. A. B. Stickney the other day, meaning, of course, that the prejudices against such an institution engendered in Jackson's time were still in control of the public mind.

Ex-Secretary Shaw said recently that men who advocated the establishment of a central bank of the United States were better statesmen than politicians, showing that he also had the ghost of Jackson in mind.

Yet as a matter of fact the evil which Jackson fought and extirpated is present today in the national banking system. His objections to the old United States Bank were its great financial and political power, its favoritism and its possession of the public funds, which it used to promote speculation.

The same things might be charged against the national banking system now. It is a thousand times more powerful than the old bank ever was. It now has in its possession more than $225,000,000 of the people's money, for the use of which it does not pay a cent. If the ghost of Jackson were to take account of realities it would address itself to this condition of affairs quite as energetically as Jackson in the flesh assailed Nick Biddle's central bank.

Jackson's fundamental idea was correct and that was that with genuine money and taxation limited to the needs of Government economically administered, the Treasury was under no necessity of engaging in the banking business, for it would never withdraw from circulation by taxation money which it would not use at once. In this way the independent Treasury came to be established. Even his system produced a surplus and naturally a scandal.

Scientifically it may be true that a great central bank of issue, authorized also to rediscount acceptable paper, would be desirable in many ways, but so far as the Treasury and the currency are concerned it would serve no purpose which the various national banks are not now promoting.

If Government would adhere to the principles of Jackson and Benton, showing its appreciation of and faith in gold as true money and would pile up no surplus as a result of overtaxation, it would be found that the independent Treasury would work no great injury to our finances. One very serious trouble now is that the Government is in the banking business much deeper than it was in Jackson's day, and, instead of getting out of it, it seems bent on becoming involved more seriously on the slightest provocation.

The ghost of Jackson shows itself to be as insubstantial as wraiths less notable, when it frightens men from having the name of a thing and does not deter them in the least from appropriating the game.

What does Mr. Bryan hope to gain by claiming the Roosevelt policies as his own? It would seem to be the better part of valor to "stand from under" them at a time like the present. The day may shortly arrive when Mr. Roosevelt will gladly shoulder the burden of "my policies" upon anyone with the hardihood to stand for them.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

A Question of Taxation.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Before I join the chorus I would like to be posted on one question: What will the United States and individual states do about the great loss in revenue if saloons are closed and breweries crippled? Will they tax coffee, tea and other necessities of life? Will they like to have an answer. MRS. J. A. RASSFELD.

1308 Wyoming street.

Miss Sue Ri.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

With reference to the pronounciation of the name of our State I submit the following: Dr. E. C. Hewett, so long at the head of the Normal University, at Normal, Ill., used to say that it should be pronounced Miss-Sue-Ri (short I) accent on second syllable. And then he would explain that Miss Sue Ri was a single lady while Mississ Ippi was a married lady.

ISABELLA M. HUNTER.

Pollard Is Nominated.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

At this time when all thoughts are bent toward gubernatorial possibilities to succeed Gov. Folk, a suggestion in that regard, I believe, would not go amiss. I refer to Judge William J. Pollard of the Second District Police Court. A man who is entirely unincumbered with any machine obligations and who stands on his past record as the very personification of all that is honest and clean in politics, Judge Pollard has continually demonstrated the fact that he is possessed of a profound wisdom, and what is better still, a conservative judgment, and would prove, I am sure, as strong a candidate as any the Democratic party could produce. The time has come when we must show our neighbors across the Atlantic that we are broad enough to appreciate a good man when we have one. OBSERVER.

Carondelet's De Soto.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I ask your aid in calling the attention of the art-loving citizens of St. Louis to the condition of a noble monument in Carondelet Park—"De Soto Discovering the Mississippi." It is an equestrian statue of heroic proportions, showing the old warrior, encased in complete armor, seated on his powerful warhorse, as he first views the great "Father of Waters." The artist has caught the proper inspiration in the pose as he rises in his stirrups, uncovering his head and gazing with evident wonder and awe upon the grand river spread out before him. This is one of the finest and most imposing of the magnificent statuary which adorned the World's Fair in Forest Park, and unless something is done to preserve it from the disintegrating action of the rains and frosts, it will inevitably be destroyed. It will be to the everlasting disgrace of the City of St. Louis if it is allowed to go the way of those which beautified O'Fallon and Reservoir Parks. W. S. GREIG.

CHALLENGE.

(President Roosevelt walked twelve miles at a furious pace the other day with Mr. Bacon.—News.)

I'd like to show
T. R.
A go
Some morning
At this sort of thing,
And teach him what
It is
To trot
Across the fields
Upon the wing.

I'd like to see
Him stay
With me
Some morning
When I shake my feet
Across the hills
And running
Rills
And where the breath
Of earth is sweet.

I'd like to see
Him skim
The lea
As I can
Scamper down the line,
And hear the thud
In dust
And mud
Of his brogans
A-trailing mine.

I am amind
That he
Would find
My coat-tails
Very hard to catch
If I could meet
T. R.
The fleet
In a good, old-fashioned
Walking match.

Strange that President Roosevelt should accept his Thanksgiving turkey from Farmer Vose when good sportsmanship requires that it be won at a turkey match.

THE MOORISH ARMY.

War is a high-sounding name for what the French are doing to the Moors of Morocco. Burton Holmes exhibited in St. Louis recently some motion pictures of the Sultan's army. It was a shame to shoot at it with a picture machine, not to speak of a gun.

Arm a thousand colored roustabouts picked up on the St. Louis levee with ball bats and an occasional old squirrel rifle, and you have a very fair duplicate of the Moorish army. They would march about as well, fight about as long, and run about as fast—and perhaps further, being a much hardier and muscular lot of men.

Remember the Virginian's advice to Trampas, and when you read war news from Morocco—"smile."

The list of enemies Mr. Roosevelt has made would be more creditable to him if he could discover some means of making Mr. Rockefeller mad.

The Dramatic Situation at Festus, Mo.

We would have had a moving picture show here for a month, but the city wanted the long end of the string as license and they decided to go elsewhere. This is the general complaint here, and for this reason we miss a good many shows, and one reason for so few amusements visiting our town. It is also the cause of our people going to De Soto and elsewhere to attend plays.—Correspondence in De Soto (Mo.) Republican.

THE FIRST LETTER.

It had never struck us that Santa Claus probably reads this column, albeit a jolly old dog withal and a fellow of infinite fun. But Joseph Sonko, who says he is a pupil at the Hancock school, has chosen this medium for advertising his Christmas wants, and the idea is much too flattering for us to refuse publication of the following:

"I would like to know if Santa Claus is here yet. If he is, tell him what I want. I want a automobile, a Indian suit, and some candy and nuts, and also a pool table."

Evidently, Joseph already has a golf course and a deer park.

"But when all is said, Caesar never fought any really great battles."

"Didn't he, though! I read the other day that he battled with dyspepsia for twenty years."

NEWS TO THEM.

Our butcher is a funny man—
Perhaps you will recall
That recently the price of meat
Took quite a little fall.
Most people saw it in the news
And gobbled every word of it,
But by some singular mischance,
Our butcher has not heard of it.

And just to show how some folks hear
The news and others don't,
And how one man will see a thing
Where another person won't—
We read that groceries were down
(They printed quite a string of it),
But we find our grocer does not know
A solitary thing of it.

LITTLE SUNSHINE.

From the Chicago Post.

The new "pay-as-you-enter" cars of the City Railway Co may not prove a success. The request that passengers help to make them so "by waiting for the next car when approaching car is loaded" may well prove too much for the average Chicagoan, long acustomed to hurling himself, four bundles and a suitcase full-tilt into the shrinking jam of humanity on the back platform.

But is it not encouraging that the street car company, the direct cause of our lack of car manners, is taking our reformation into its own hands And is it not almost too good to be true that the company is doing this through the aid of neatly dressed supervisors distributing concise and convincing rules of etiquette?

May the experiment succeed. Its mere method of application deserves to bring it victory.

NOT HIS ELEMENT.

From the Galveston News.

It will be remembered that the Chief Executive thought that the Dick Fowler was deliberately improperly handled, and that he telegraphed orders to do a plenty to her officers in a hurry. The inspectors who investigated the charge find to the contrary, thereby implying that the President was somewhat excited, and that he can not sit the surricane deck of a Mississippi River boat as calmly as he can sit the hurricane deck of a bronco.

TALK AND WORK.

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Attention is called to the fact that when a Pennsylvania miner was entombed by an avalanche of coal some of the bystanders said it would take months to dig him out. Luckily, there were other fellows there who said nothing. They were too busy digging. In four days they had him out, alive and reasonably active. It's the diggers who accomplish things in this world.

ATLANTA IS FIXED.

From the Chattanooga Times.

Atlanta has it fixed all right through the "club locker." She had it once before and knows how to treat it. We haven't heard yet how Birmingham is going to do it; she's got it arranged, however, we are told, all right, so that acute suffering may be at least partially relieved. Knoxville has the cutest way, but we're not going to tell.

E. W. M.—As young women often need an umbrella, a present of one ought to be acceptable. She might prefer a parasol. Send it. There is a rule that only books, candies or flowers may be presents to young women from young men.

G. W.—For enlarged pores, drink much water and eat fruit. Take course of complexion treatments that include massage and electricity. Use complexion brush every night with warm water and pure castile soap, afterward applyineg creme marquise.

M. O.—Fudge: Boil together cupful sugar, one of grated chocolate, half cupful of milk and quarter cupful molasses. Stir often, when a little hardens in cold water take from fire, beat in teaspoonful of vanilla and stir several minutes or until "candied," then turn into buttered pan.

F. S. R.—If you are drowsy and tired in the morning it may be because you do not retire early enough. If you have reason to think tobacco affects your nerves, abandon its use, or at least modify very much. Most people require eight hours' sleep, and there are those who think they need nine.

M. C. M.—We have no formula for a linoleum paint that would give you blocks of blue and white. Should linoleum become worn and dull looking, scrub it and give it a coat of boiled linseed oil. After this thoroughly soaks in, give one or two coats of best varnish. The linoleum will then look like new.

H.—"Conquest of the Air," by Alexander, 75 cents; published by Wessels, 43 East Nineteenth street, New York. "My Airships," by Santos-Dumont, $1.40; Century Co., 33 East Seventeenth street, New York. "Aerial Navigation," by Wilker, $3; Van Nostrand, 23 Murray street, New York. See also Public Library.

M.—Someone says: "A simple cleanser for marble known to be very fine is a painter's sash brush and sapolio with plenty of water. Scrubb the bust as you would a piece of cut glass. Do not use soaps, as they will turn the marble yellow. Alcohol is also an excellent cleanser for statuary. I have cleaned a great many pieces of expensive statuary with both sapolio and alcohol with good results."

H.—Old Virginia Eggnog: Beat 12 eggs, whites and yolks separately, adding to yolks a heaping tablespoon of sugar for each egg and beating all the time. When very light stir rapidly pint best whisky and pint cognac brandy, then add half the well-beaten whites to pint of milk and quart of cream. Flavor with nutmeg and stir in lightly the remaining whites. One drop oil of cinnamon improves this for some tastes. If more liquor is desired increase the quantity given, but add before the cream and milk are added or you will ruin the eggnog.

H. C. C.—Not knowing provisions of the will, it is impossible to inform you how division would be made, wife of testator being provided with a certain monthly income from the estate. Heirs in many cases borrow on their inheritance, but whether you could do so on yours we cannot say. The executor or executrix cannot be compelled to give you the part inherited until one year after date of letters, unless the legacy be perishable; after one year and within two years you could compel payment of same by giving bond and security that you will refund your due proportion of any debt which may afterward be established against the estate and costs attending recovery thereof. Usual time in settlement of estates is from 24 to 27 months.

B. A.—As to the Lusitania's propellers this is all that we have read: The appearance of the ship afloat as she towered up from the water's edge was almost indescribable, for she floated at a draft just submerging the propeller bosses, the top blades of which could be seen. These propellers looked peculiar, for they are on the same plane but on differing lengths of shaft, one couple being 80 feet forward of the after couple. A striking feature is the way the outer propeller shafting is carried out from the hull, as if by long tapering tubes, which seem to grow in their places, and apart from the unusual aspect there is nothing unsightly in the way the problem of arranging the hull to accomodate the condition necessitated by the enormous power required to drive the ship at her contract speed has been solved.

W. J.—A question has been raised as to the origin of the word "Limerick" and various statements have been published, but there is ample evidence that the form of rhyme has existed from the time of Edward Lear, author of the Book of Nonsense, when it was called a "Learic." Lear was a native of Lancashire, born in 1813. Lear got his idea from some lines beginning "There was an old man of Tobago." Murray's Historical Dictionary of English gives this definition: "The use of the word originated in a social organization which was in the habit of amusing itself by making nonsense verses ending with a sort of chorus something like 'who will come with us to Limerick,' and October, 1898, is given as the date of the use of the word 'Limerick' to indicate this form of rhyme, but there is no doubt that the form, if not the word, existed long before the date given in 'Murray.' "

THOMPSON.—Prof. Wise moved to Missouri some time in the '70s and settled with his son and daughter, both aeronauts, in Pike County, where he made numerous short excursions, at one time landing near St. Louis. In the autumn of 1879 he advertised a "grand nocturnal excursion" from this city, "proposing to remain up all night, to take observations of the upper air currents." Ascension was made from Lindell Park, at 5 p. m., Sept. 28, in the "Pathfinder." George Burr, a young St. Louis man, teller in the St. Louis National Bank, accompanied him. The balloon had a lifting capacity of about 25,000 cubic feet of gas, but was a patched-up concern and was not provided with sufficient ballast or tackle. At 6:30 o'clock it was seen over Bunker Hill, Ill., and 11 o'clock at Miller's Station, Ind., 300 miles from St. Louis at the edge of Lake Michigan. Burr's body was found Oct. 23. It had been washed ashore and was half covered with sand. Wise was never found.

CENSOR.—You say: "There is a Federal statute making it a misdemeanor to intentionally mutilate or destroy U. S. money, either coin or paper, whether with or without intent to pass it afterwards. Every ornament made from a coin is in violation of that statute and when rings and pins made of coins were so very popular about 1895 that statute was frequently invoked to stop their manufacture." Section 5458, United States revised statutes, says: Every person who fraudulently, by any act, way or means, defaces, mutilates, impairs, diminishes, falsifies, scales, or lightens the gold and silver coins which have been or which may hereafter be coined at the mints of the United States, or any foreign gold or silver coins which are by law made current or are in actual use and circulation as money within the United States, shall be imprisoned not more than two years and fined not more than $2000. (Note the word fraudulently in this law).

T.—Chocolate Dip Candy: Place a bowl in the top of a steaming teakettle, and put in it a quarter of a half pound cake of unsweetened chocolate, either grated or cut fine. When the chocolate has melted add lumps of vanilla fondant until the bowl is two-thirds full. Use more or less chocolate, as a darker or lighter shade is desired. Stir occasionally with a fork until the mixture is warmed through, then beat well until all is of the same consistency. When a cold fork is dipped well into it the "dip" should run slowly, leaving a coating about an eighth of an inch thick on the fork. If too thick add a little water and beat again. If too thin add more chocolate and fondant. Drop the candies, one at a time, into this bowl; dip well into the mixture until entirely covered, and lift out by placing a fork under them, drawing the fork across the edge of the bowl to remove all superfluous chocolate, and drop on waxed paper, holding the fork an inch or two above the paper. When dipping the cocoanut balls a few shreds of cocoanut may be placed on the top of each so that they may be distinguished from the nut balls. Nut kernels and pieces of fig dropped in chocolate or melted maple fondant are delicious.

THE TRUTH ABOUT NEW BOOKS.

What Post-Dispatch Reviewers Think of Some Recent Publications.

WHEN Ellis Parker Butler wrote "Pigs Is Pigs," he rose from whatever degree of obscurity had been his condition to wide fame. His tale became a standard of fun for present day magazine readers. In the Current American Magazine is another funny story by Mr. Parker, "Fleas Will Be Fleas," which deserves a niche in memory adjoining that which "Pigs" created. But this humorist is no longer content with the limitations of the short story. He has written a novel that is crowded with laughter provoking characterizations, situations and conceits. It bears the repulsive title "Kilo," a meaningless combination of letters having nothing but oddity to recommend it. Get beyond the title, turn over the fly leaves and title page, wander with Eliph' Hewlitt through Iowa to the new town Kilo, and you will be above adverse criticism. It is a character novel written with a surer pen than was granted any American essaying the same task, with more art and wit and humor than "David Harum," or any of its successors, contained. If it possessed but here and there some of the pathos that is the necessary complement of certain situations it would rank high indeed. However, Mr. Parker sees only the fun of life, only the ridiculous and conceives his whole mission to be successfully ended when you laugh—as laugh you must—loudly, heartily, infectiously. (McClure.)

Another laughter inciter is whimsical Gelett Burgess. His "Maxims of Methuselah" contain much that is cynical concerning women and much that every man and woman must agree is true beyond cavil. The elaborate introductory excuse for the "Maxims" was not needed and yet it is well worth reading for its dainty fooling. "Lo she saith: 'I have washed my hair and can do naught with it,'" quotes Methuselah, convincingly demonstrating to Shem his acquaintance with the sex. The 22 letters of the Persian alphabet mark the course she follows according to this ancient in the enslaving of men and every step will be recognized by those who have walked the way with her. (Frederick A. Stokes Co.)

Edith Huntington Mason, a Chicago woman, wrote "The Real Agatha," which ran as a brief serial in the Ladies' Home Journal and is printed in a holiday book. It is a pretty tale and is prettily printed. (A. C. McClurg & Co.)

Mr. Roosevelt supplied a commendation and a sermon for the preface to Myra Kelly's new book, "Wards of Liberty." In spite of his disservice and the unexplanatory title, the book should win many readers. It is a fine collection of Myra Kelly's stories from the public schools of New York's east side. Her big Irish heart accepts the anemic children of the ignorant, struggling, wholly alien Russian Jews as babies to be loved and helped through love. Her sympathy even extends to their dull mothers and gilds the dirt and squalor of their lives. Her lightest humor lives close to tears and sometimes vanishes in their mist.

Myrtle Reed's lavender volumes have been increased by the "Love Affairs of Literary Men." Naturally the compilation is restricted to the warm romances of those men who have won wide acceptance. The work is respectably done and the book will make a nice gift for a good lady. (G. P. Putnam's Sons.)

"My Merry Brockhurst," by Agnes and Egerton Castle, is a tale of Charles and the restoration. It is romance, with a historical setting. Likely the period of restoration was as tawdry and commonplace as any before or after it, but we have agreed to accept it as a time for romance and the Castles have gained much gold from it. This has big passages. Brockhurst has marvelous success with women, and goes dangerously close to the last infamy. Imagine this: His son loves a girl who loves the father, who loves her; her cousin loves her and her money; a French woman in the train of the Queen is temporarily loved by the King, but she is mad over Brockhurst. Is that not the basis for a plot that should hold you fascinated all night long? (The Macmillan Co.)

"The Powers and Maxine," by C. N. and A. M. Williamson is by no means their best work. It is a story of complications, mystery, state secrets and withal entertaining. (Empire Book Co.)

To what extent should religious training enter into the life of a child, particularly if that child be a boy? Are men and women spiritually better for having been reared by parents with such narrow and austere views of life that they see religion as the only thing in the world worth while? Or is it true that a reaction follows a youth of penitence and prayer and that such persons become indifferent if they do not actively scoff at the things they used to believe? These questions that have occurred to every thinking mind constitute the theme of "Father and Son," described as "biographical recollections" and published anonymously. The author tries to settle the question by his own experience. His father taught him religion and piety from the day he could understand. His youth was made up of praying, church going and repentance. The ordinary delights and pleasures of childhood were denied to him. When time swept him into the current of the world, a man, he was surfeited with religion. He soon turned to doubt and then to indifference, sadly disappointing and grieving his father, who sincerely believed the course he had pursued was best. (Scribner's.)

Mr. Harriman, Chancellor Day and some others, perhaps, would not care to go camping with President Roosevelt, but most of us would be highly honored if taken along as John Burroughs was. The venerable naturalist has just published a book which he calls "Camping With Roosevelt." They were in the Yellowstone together, and here is a story the President told around the camp fire: A Rough Rider wrote him from Arizona: "I am in Jail for shooting a woman in the eye. Was not shooting at her, but shot at my wife. Can you help me?" Some weeks later a second letter came. It said: "Never mind, we have elected our District Attorney." One does not know how enthusiastic a a naturalist the President is until one has read this delightful little book. (Houghton, Mifflin & Co.)

The home place is the prosiest spot in the world to the farm boy, who is planning between rests in the furrowed field to flee to the city and leap into the struggle for wealth and power, but, when time softens his memory of the hardships he endured there—hardships that gave him a real man's physique and a finer soul—it becomes the most poetic and sacred locality in the world. Who doesn't like to think of those old days and laugh—and sometimes weep—over them?

In Charles Clark Munn's "Boyhood Days on the Farm" he has struck a chord that will find response in all this great tribe of men. All will find in it something that is from their own lives. It is as natural as the old farm days themselves, and is full of smiles and tears. It is not fiction, but just a record of how a boy lived on New England farms a generation ago. COL. TODHUNTER ORATES ON GOLD.

World's Output Has Increased Enormously, but Where Is His Share? Reported for the Post-Dispatch

BY RIPLEY D. SAUNDERS.

"WELL, suh," said Col. Thurs. T. Todhunter, dubiously, "when I come across these-here statistics tellin' me that the production of gold has increased from $202,000,000 in 1896 to $400,000,000 in 1906, I'll be dadblamed if it don't set me wonderin' what's become o' my share in that hog-killin' output, suh.

"I'll be shot full o' holes if I can lay my hands on it, suh. My position in the premises is just like it's always been and just like the sacred poet sings in the old camp-meetin' hymn, suh—'On Jordan's stormy banks I stand, and cast a wishful eye, to Canaan's fair and happy land, where my possessions lie,' suh. I been standin' on Jordan's stormy banks financially for lo, these many years, suh, and my wishful eye is all I've ever been able to cast on any possessions that amount to more'n a hill o' beans in the grand total o' this world's wealth, suh. Canaan's fair and happy land don't git no closer to Col. Thurs. T. Todhunter, pecuniarily speakin', as the years rolll on over his devoted head, I regret to say, suh.

"And while I know, suh, as the Good Book tells us, that money is the root of all evil and that it's easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven, I must confess, suh, that if Col. Thurs. T. Todhunter could get a strong tail-holt on some o' that-there root, he'd do a stunt o' the loudest gruntin' trying to shove that camel through a needle that ever you heard in all your born days, suh. It couldn't be no harder work'n I've had to do just to hold the Todhunter status quo endurin' o' these 10 years that the gold output's been a-doublin' itself, suh—and I'd ruther be a camel-whacker any day in the week than to sell leaf tobacco on a stagnant market, suh, at a rate o' brokerage shaved by a trust that'd skin a flea for its hide and tallow, suh.

"Remember, suh, I ain't complainin'—the day has yet to come when you or anybody else'll find Col. Todhunter puttin' up a poor mouth and bewailin' that he can't hold his own in this vale of tears, suh. What I'm sayin' is that I don't seem to git a chance to hold all my own, suh—some o' that there increase of nearly $200,000,000 in the gold output must be mine, as sure as eggs is eggs, suh. Lord bless my old heart, suh, I'd just like to be able to identify it about this time o' year, suh—you'd see Col. Thurs. T. Todhunter and Mrs. Todhunter doin' an increase o' Christmas shoppin' out of all proportion to even that big increase in the world's gold production, suh. And while that might look foolish to some folks, suh, and lead 'em to say that it accounted for Col. Todhunter's chronic condition of financial depression, I'll bet I'd get more happiness out o' spendin' the little Todhunter share o' the world's wealth, suh, than they get out o' hoardin' theirs where moths and rust corrupt and thieves break in and steal, suh. I don't believe in pilin' up these-here corruption funds, suh.

"In the meantime, suh, don't you contemplate Col. Thurs. T. Todhunter in the light of a blighted soul with disappointment feedin' on his damask cheek, suh. He's as full o' ginger as a 2-year-old, rich or no rich—only he'd be a heap fuller if he could have a little more o' that gold fillin' he's just been a-readin' about, suh, that's all."

BIG, wholesome, normal men and women are those born on these last days of November. Because they are normal they are strictly honest; only defective minds can see any profit in dishonesty. Because they are normal they are generous, liberal and impartial. A boy born today should be trained for a position in life that will require judicial ability. If the law be decided on, he should be warned against disappointment over early failure, for he will not make a success as an advocate, nor as a counsel when ingenious devices for misleading opponents are desired. As a counselor of right and as an arbitrator he will show his greatest strength. Girls born on the last days of this month will be good mothers and great aids to their husbands, being eminently sane, healthy and tactful. While capable of ruling, they will avoid dominion over others whenever it is possible. An especial grace attaching to both styles is eloquence.

FREDERICK HAUSMAN, Feb. 9.—You are of pleasing personality, graceful, gentle, fond of music and poetry, loyal in friendship and love, diligent, possess ability to rule others, but should strive earnestly to control your temper, which is ever on hair trigger. Persons born under your sign—Aquarius—go on developing all their lives, and generally show marked deficiencies in early life, though these are always overcome. You have a distaste for mathematics, which you must fight against, for in the higher branches of this science your qualities will enable you to excel.

ALBERT STOLZ, Oct. 4.—You have marked business ability, are quick at figures and handy with tools. Your best field would be in a manufacturing business. You are very steadfast in love and hate and inclined to melancholy. You should live as much as possible in the open air and interest yourself in other people, overcoming an excessive desire for solitude. You do not give the year of your birth, but if you are a young men, mining or lumbering will employ your talents to the best advantage. You are predisposed to stomach and lung troubles, against which you must ever be on your guard.

RECORDS FOR READING.

"OUR reading record," said the aged librarian, "is held by a rich old lady of 73 years. She has read, our books show, over 15,000 volumes—300 volumes a year since 1854.

"Our average subscriber reads in the year's course from 75 to 100 volumes, though we have many clients who get through 200 volumes every twelvemonth.

"They who buy their books read much less. I am informed by our bookseller that the average book-buyer doesn't read more than 25 or 30 books a year. The book buyer who reads 100 books a year is a very rare bird."

LITTLE LESSONS IN ENGLISH.

Submit Your Language Difficulties to the Post-Dispatch and They Will Be Solved

BY ARTHUR EBBERLING.

"SHE had an awful good time." Eva asks if this is permissible. Awful means full of awe, overpowering with reverence or with horror. "Awful good time" is a schoolgirl idiom which the fathers and mothers of English have not adopted. As the girls use it it signifies all that a man would mean by damned, and is as inadmissible. "An awful good time" is a vulgar phrase, finding its greatest defect in its excess.

Henry V. asks if allow is properly used in "I allow you are right." In some parts of the United States such usage is allowed, but authorities on the language do not permit it. The meaning intended to be conveyed by allow, as it appears in the sentence, is believe—"I believe you are right," but allow has, properly, no such meaning. When I allow you I do not interfere with you; allow means the absence of effort to hinder or prevent. "I do not hinder or prevent you are right" would be a foolish sentence, would it not?

"We allow that which we do not attempt to hinder," says Fernald. "We permit that to which we give some express authorization. When this is given verbally, it is called permission; when in writing, it is commonly called a permit. There are establishments that anyone will be allowed to visit without challenge or hindrance, there are others that no one is allowed to visit without a permit from the manager; there are others to which visitors are admitted at specified times, with a formal permit. We allow a child's innocent intrusion; we concede a right; grant a request; consent to a sale of property; permit an inspection of accounts; sanction a marriage; tolerate the rudeness of a well-meaning servant; submit to a surgical operation; yield to a demand or necessity against our wish or will, or yield something under compulsion; as, the Sheriff yielded the keys at a muzzle of a revolver and allowed the mob to enter."

BAR-CHECKS AS LIABILITIES.

The Silent Boarder Discusses Financial Matters and an Apparent Paradox. Reported for the Post-Dispatch

By W. BOB HOLLAND.

"THE financial situation," began the Shoe Clerk when the Silent boarder interrupted with:

"Is growing brighter. Only this morning at the office I was able to exhibit a quarter, a dime and a penny before the ghost had walked. I was feeling pretty proud of my financial acumen when the spindle-shanked bookkeeper produced three coins of the same size, color and denomination. We were tied. I frisked my change pockets, but could dig up no more currency.

"Then the bookkeeper searched himself and found an aluminum token that he said was worth 2½ cents at a bar down on Chouteau avenue, and he maintained that he was financially stronger than I was by the value of the bar check."

"It looks like he had you," said the Floorwalker.

"Had nothing," replied the Silent Boarder. "That bar check was not an asset—it was a liability. In order to use that bit of aluminum for any purpose except as a pocket piece he would have to put a dime with it. It was valueless by itself and was a source of expense. I readily perceived this and the spindle-shanked person retired humbled and disgraced.

"And yet I would have been wrong if the bookkeeper had had two bar checks, for he could have bought a glass of beer with them. Twice nothing, therefore, becomes something."

BIG LEAGUERS OF PAST NOW STAR WITH MINORS

Former Players on Major Teams Who Have Been Forced Out, Still Shine With Association.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

WHEN big league ball players begin to slow up and are no longer of use to the majors, they invariably have a few years left in which they may star in the better minor leagues. As a rule they go down two or three steps until finally they are out of the game for good.

This is brought out most clearly in the batting averages just given out for the American Association, probably the strongest of the minor leagues, unless, perhaps, the Eastern League is put ahead.

In the official figures given out by President O'Brien it is seen that among the first 15 batters of the league about ten of them are players who were former major leaguers, but who have just slipped back a step. However, in the association they are among the star batters and their names are perched high in the column.

Seldom "Come Back."

Quite often some of these players get back again into the big leagues, but as a rule it is when the player is still young and was found wanting in his first attempt with the big fellows and needed another year or two with the minors to develop. More often it is a case of a player passing down and out from fast company, but he is still fast enough to be a leader with the next division lower.

This is shown most clearly in the leading batter of the American Association this year, none other than Jake Beckley, well known in St. Louis for his connection with the Cardinals the season before last. One of the pitchers has a better mark than Jake, but took part in but 22 games and can hardly be given the credit.

Beckley Out of Majors.

Beckley passed down from the majors when he left the St. Louis club. Before that he had been with Cincinnati, and while his batting was still strong enough perhaps to have stuck a while longer, it would not have led the National League by many points. Yet Jake goes out and heads them all in the American Association with an average of .365. His fielding, of course, probably dropped off more than his batting, for Jake is getting well along in years and cannot go after the low grass with his old-time speed.

Another former major league star that stands out in glaring letters in the Association averages is John (Buck) Freeman, one time great slugger on the Boston American League team. Freeman batted .335 for the Minneapolis club last summer and had the phenominel record of 18 home runs, 38 two baggers and 10 triples to his credit. Freeman is another of the "old boys" who have stepped out of the major league.

Carr Up Near the Top.

Carr of Minneapolis and Stovall of Cleveland were other old time big leaguers who stepped down to shine in the minor organization and they batted .315 and .307 respectively. Smoot, who formerly banged the ball about the local National League park, finished with a mark of .312 with the Toledo club of the Association.

There is considerable talk of Carr's getting back with a major league club again next season and Stovall also is a possible subject for another trial with the fast company. Jerry Freeman, who batted an even .300 for the Minneapolis club is to be tried out as first baseman for the Washington club next season.

Catcher Armbruster, who made a mark of .332 with the Toledo club has already been secured by Charley Comiskey and finished the season with the White Sox. He will also be kept for the Chicago club next season.

Green and Dundon Fall.

A few of the former big leaguers of fame fell down this season in batting for the minor clubs, none being more conspicuous than Danny Green, the former White Sox slugger, who finished this season with Milwaukee with a mark of but .254. Gus Dundin, also a former White Sox star, tumbled badly this season with the Minneapolis club and was able to hit but .191 for the Milwaukee club.

Harry Clark, the Milwaukee third baseman who is so fast and who is to play with the St. Louis Browns next season, was weak in batting getting but .196 for the season.

CENTRAL HIGH FLOATS INTERSCHOLASTIC FLAG

Red and Black Team Wins Pennant Race With Smith and Western Tied for Place; Protests May Change Positions Following Leaders.

Interscholastic League Percentages.

	Won.	Lost.	Tied.	Pct.
Central High	5	0	0	1.000
Smith Academy	3	1	1	.750
Western Military	3	1	1	.750
McKinley High	1	3	1	.250
Yeatman High	1	3	1	.250
Manual T. S.	0	5	0	.000

The Interscholastic League football championship closed with the final game between Central and McKinley Thursday morning. Central High simply romped with it, gathering throughout the series a sum total of 168 points, with a record of having their own goal line uncrossed.

The fight for second place, however, was a good one. Western Military Academy and Smith Academy, who divided the honors, played to a 0—0 draw. Two protests have been drawn up against the cadets, one by Manual T. S. and one by Yeatman High. The Manual boys claim a safety, which was not allowed by the referee, but if given them would have put the Orange and Black on the long end of the score, 7—6. Yeatman High maintains that an attempt at a field goal by Western, which was counted by the officials and gave the soldiers the game, 10—6, fell short of the crossbar. Should either one of these contentions be upheld by the league judiciary committee, which meets next week, Western will be deprived of their position in sharing the runner-up honors and will go to third place, Smith monopolizing second.

McKinley High and Yeatman High are tied for the leadership of the second divisions. They also played a game without either scoring. If Yeatman's protest is allowed it will also break this tie and give them fourth position.

Manual brings up the rear with a record of having scored in only one. The protest entered by the Orange and Black would not alter their position in the final standing, but would save them from ending the year with a percentage of zero.

The season's results follow:

Oct. 12—Central 6, Yeatman 0; Smith 19, Manual 0, Western 25, McKinley 12.
Oct. 19—Yeatman 6, Western 10; McKinley 5, Manual 0.
Oct. 28—Smith 0, Western 0.
Nov. 2—Central 32, Manual 0.
Nov. 9—Central 51, Western 0; Smith 18, McKinley 6; Yeatman 11, Manual 0.
Nov. 16—Central 22, Smith; Yeatman 0, McKinley 0; Western 6, Manual 5.
Nov. 23—Smith 11, Yeatman 5.
Nov. 28—Central 57, McKinley 0.

CYCLISTS ARRIVE FOR GRIND

Six-Days' International Race in New York Begins Dec. 6.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Bicycle stars are arriving for the six-days' international grind in Madison Square Garden, beginning Dec. 6. Among those who will contest are Petit Breton and Dargagon, the French team; Walter Rutt and Cohann Stol, Edmund Jacquelin and Carlo Vavoni, Leon Georget and Victor Dupre, Reynolds and Vallsburg. Frank Kramer will appear in several extra features.

HAD M'GARRY ON THE ROPES

Fitzgerald Given Decision When Bout Is Stopped.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 30.—With "Amby" McGarry hanging on the ropes in the eleventh round the referee stopped the bout here last night and gave the decision to Willie Fitzgerald of Brooklyn.

McGarry, although outclassed, exhibited gameness and came back three times in the tenth after he had been sent to the canvas.

DALY AND CLINE LEFT FOR TITLE

Former's Victory Over Jevne Cuts List Down to Two; Will Meet Cline Sunday Night.

TOURNAMENT STANDING.

	W.	L.	H.A.	H.R.
Cline	5	1	.77	9
Jevne	4	3	.89	6

Tonight's Game.

Cline vs. Jevne, at Rex Academy, 8 o'clock.

The three-cushion billiard championship emblem donated by Jordan W. Lambert will either go to Harry P. Cline of Philadelphia or John Daly of Chicago. Cline has a record of five games won and one lost. Daly has won five games and lost two. Cline has two games yet to play.

Saturday night he will oppose Lloyd Jevne at the Rex Academy at 8 o'clock. Sunday night he will play Daly. If Cline defeats either Daly or Jevne the best Daly can do will be to tie him for the championship.

Daly put Lloyd Jevne, the present three-cushion champion, out of the running at the Rex Friday night. The "Irish Count" was in excellent stroke. He averaged .91 and ran away from Jevne, 50 to 24. Jevne has won four games and lost three. All of the other players in the tournament, with the exception of the three mentioned, have already played their nine scheduled tournament matches.

Daly was in great form Friday night. He counted 16 points in his first eight innings. Daly's high run was five. Jevne's best string was four. Jevne and Cline should furnish a hot match this evening. Cline has been playing wonderful billiards. When Jevne can get his stroke in good working order the tall fellow can reel off points as fast as any man.

Daly will undoubtedly be pulling for Jevne to win Saturday night. If Cline trims Jevne, Daly can get nothing better than a tie with Cline at 6-2, even if John should defeat the Philadelphian Sunday night, whereas if Jevne wins, Daly can win the championship by trimming Harry.

MICHIGAN WILL RETURN TO WESTERN FIELD ONCE MORE

Wolverine School Favors Rejoining Forces of Conference in Football.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 30.—"Although I am not in a position to make a positive statement, I think that with the elimination of the retractive feature of the three-year rule and the changing of the rules so as to allow seven games, Michigan will be willing to adopt the old relations in Western athletics."

So said Prof. Henry M. Bates before leaving for Chicago to attend the conference meeting. He refused to state what propositions he would offer at the meeting. Merely saying that he would do all he could and would doubtless be governed largely by the action taken by the conference itself, however, he intimated that Michigan was very anxious for the passage of the two changes referred to.

No definite announcement to that effect has been made, but it is understood that Prof. Bates, who has always favored Michigan's remaining in the conference, will be one of the four faculty members on the new Athletic Board of Control, and it is certain that Judge Lane, formerly Michigan's conference representative, will not have a place, as he himself said tonight that he had declined to serve.

PAPKE AND KELLY TO FIGHT

Articles Signed for Ten-Round Go at Milwaukee on Dec. 30.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Billy Papke, the Spring Valley slugger, has at last forced Hugo Kelly into a match. The two have signed articles for a ten-round fight before the Badger Athletic Club of Milwaukee on the evening of Dec. 30. The bout is announced as being for the middleweight championship.

Silvie Ferretti, acting for Kelly, and T. E. Jones, acting for Papke, signed the articles and posted a forfeit of $250 each for appearance. The club has also posted a forfeit to assure the match.

The men agreed to weigh in at 154 pounds at 3 o'clock and Malachy Hogan has been selected to referee. Kelly is now in Buffalo and has a week's engagement with a theatrical company, after which he will come to Chicago to train. Papke will train in Kewanee, Ill., where he now is.

POOL TOURNEY IS ON NEXT WEEK

Local Players Will Meet at Planters in Games for the Budweiser Trophy.

A number of men who play pool at the Planters have entered for a straight pool tournament for the "Budweiser" trophy which will open at the Planters Monday afternoon. All of the games will be started at 2 p. m.

Phillips will play Garrison Monday afternoon. W. Kinney and H. Spencer will play Tuesday. O'Neil and C. Kinney will furnish the Wednesday afternoon contest. Von Wedelstaedt and Kehoe will clash Thursday afternoon. Friday Grayson and Thompson are scheduled, and Gale and Von Paul will play Saturday afternoon.

Von Wedelstaedt is the favorite to win the tournament. He is one of the best amateur pool players in the city and has for several years won the championship of the St. Louis club. The other contestants are also well known young men at the different St. Louis clubs. The trophy, which will go to the winner, was donated by a brewery company.

NO RACE FOR AMERICA'S CUP LIKELY IN THE YEAR 1908

Unless Challenge Is in by Midnight Tonight, the Event Will Be Dropped.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—There will be no yacht race for the America's cup next year unless notification of an intent to challenge is received by the New York Yacht Club bfore midnight tonight. Under the conditions of the deed of gift a ten months' notice of intention must be given.

The yachting season here closed officially on Sept. 10. Therefore the ten months' limit expires tonight. The only prospect of a race next year lies in what action shall be taken by the Swedish Yacht Club at a meeting to be held in Stockholm today.

As the New York Yacht Club has notified Swedish yachtsmen a challenge for a boat smaller than the 90-foot class will not be accepted, it remains for the Swedes to settle the question of whether they will challenge for a race of this style of boats.

HUBER AND SAUNDERS WIN FIGHTS AT GRANITE CITY

Billy Huber, the St. Louis middle weight fighter gained a six round decision over "Candy" Galloway, of Granite City in a 6-round bout at the Granite City A. C., Granite City Ill. Friday night. The fight was a slow one. Galloway seemed only anxious to last the six rounds. Huber did not damage his opponent to any extent, but earned referee Craig Sharpe's decision because of his aggressiveness.

Billy saunders, the St. Louis negro feather weight, gave Tom Hogan a hard beating for six rounds in the preliminary and received the decision. Hogan was bleeding freely and in a bad way at the finish. It was announced that Hughey McGovern, brother to Terry McGovern, would meet Monte Dale, the St. Louis feather weight in a bout at the club in the near future.

Gotch Throws Rogers Twice.

MONTREAL, Nov. 30.—In what was billed as a match for the wrestling championship of America, Frank Gotch threw Yankee Rogers in two straight falls in 24 and 15 minutes.

Boys Form Homing Club.

The latest homing club in St. Louis is composed of boys from 13 to 17 years old. The organization hopes to become affiliated with the national body. L. Nowotny, 1711 South Eleventh street, is secretary.

Soccer League to Meet.

A meeting has been called for next Tuesday evening at which the Saturday Afternoon Soccer League will be reorganized. Four teams will be given membership, and they will likely represent Christian Brothers' College, Triple A, Y. M. C. A. and either M. A. C. or St. James' parish.

HYDE PARKS SET NEW BOWLING MARK OF YEAR

With an Average of 1036, They Displace Fern Glens for Lead in the Palace Tenpin League.

The Hyde Parks of the Palace Ten Pin League smashed the season record for three games in competition on the Palace alleys Friday night by averaging 1036. The Hyde Parks opposed the Fern Glens, who were leading the league. The Hyde Parks, by their victory, moved into first position with the Fern Glens second and the Palace team third.

The Hyde Parks furnished the sensation of the tenpin season by their great work in the match. The De Soto Stars of the City League had held the season record for three games, 1019, made about a month ago.

The Hyde Parks last year were counted one of the strongest teams in the State. At Kansas City the team cleaned up some of the best fives in that place. This season the team has been slow to get started. Friday night was the first time that all of the members of the team were in form.

The Fern Glens bowled what would be a winning match in almost any other man's league, but against the Hyde Parks they had no chance. In the opening game the Hyde Parks secured 971 pins to 963 for their opponents. This was a mighty good starter. In the second the Hyde Parks started their showing themselves. When the game was over their score sheet looked like a mass of strikes, but 1034 pins was found to be the total.

The Fern Glens were game and sent over 932 pins. The last game was the best. The Hyde Parks bumped over 1103 pins. The Fern Glens went at a fine clip and secured 973, but the excellent mark looked weak alongside the Hyde Parks' score.

The Palace team was anxious to break the season's record for one game in the last, but failed by 11 pins, the Palace team having hung up a mark of 1114 in a game earlier in the year.

Three members of the Hdye Parks went over the 200 average mark, while the other two were close to the double century. Homer Sanders, "Big Dog," was hitting the pins right for the first time in almost a month. He has been out of the game for several weeks as the result of a sprained ankle received while bowling.

For a week he has been practicing and Friday night went out to see if he could still crack the pins as of old. He started off with a 200 game and followed it up with a 235 and 234. The Hyde Parks' anchor man certainly delivered the goods. His average was 223. Sanders tried hard to displace J. C. Meling's season record average for three games for this season, 226, but could not quite make connections.

Langenberg Is High Man.

Fred Langenberg opened with a 204. He dropped back to 178 in the third, but the spectators almost collapsed when the Palace alley boss rang up a 279 in the third game. Langenberg averaged 220 1-3. Mann got a mark of 205 2-3. Waldecker managed to nose out Beshore for fourth honors, the former averaging 194 and Beshore 192. Not a man on the Fern Glens was able to get over the 200 average mark, De Vhies, 198 1-3, being the best.

The scores:

Pegged on the Bases

"Muggsy" McGraw has stated positively that he will manage the New York Giants next season. He made the statement in Cincinnati and only a few days before John T. Brush had refused to deny that he would discharge McGraw. Only time will tell.

Mike Mitchell, the athletic outfielder of the Reds, was married Monday to Miss Laura McKee of Cincinnati and the couple are now on their honeymoon in the South.

Rube Waddell is reported as playing fullback for a football team in Reading. Rube says he has no intention of being dismissed from the Athletics next season and expects to be on the pitching staff once more.

"Slats" Davis is to umpire in the Western League next season. He has signed a contract with President O'Neill and will no doubt be popular in that circuit, as he has officiated there before and is also an old player in that organization.

The Cincinnati team is to have a busy spring of it while on the training trip. President Herrmann has sent Secretary Bancroft to Florida to arrange training quarters at St. Augustine and Jacksonville. Besides games with the Southern teams, the Reds will take on the Chicago White Sox and the Boston Americans for a series each, at their Cincinnati park.

The two Boston clubs have enough players for next year to have a whole league of their own. In all, 98 players are signed, over 50 being on the American League club.

Both Managers Lajoie of Cleveland and Griffith of New York would like to have the rule abolished that forbids a pitcher warming up before the grandstand during the progress of the game. They claim that there is often so much delay in making a change of pitchers, and the man warming up has to be so far from the diamond.

Willie Keeler will not be dismissed from the big league because of his bad season during 1907. Griffith has announced his intention of keeping the one-time great batter for another trial. Keeler was sick much of the time last year and was also suffering from a sore finger.

O'BRIEN SCOFFS AT KAUFMAN

Philadelphia Jack Surprised That Coast Man Won Over Sullivan.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 30.—When the news of Al Kaufman's victory flashed over the wires Jack O'Brien, who is filling an engagement at the Standard Theater in this city, said: "I am sorry to see Twin Jack lose. He is a better man than Kaufman and can beat him outside of Frisco. Billy Delaney is a wise old owl and has kept his man away from tough game right along. I guess they will now hail Kaufman as a champion. If he is a champion, then I must stand out pretty good in the fighting game for I gave him his worst beating and have the honor of being the only man who has knocked him out. Kaufman does not class with the best heavy weights of the day and it is only by the clever management of good old Billy Delaney that he has been able to go along so well in the pugilistic game."

BIG NINE IN CONFERENCE

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 30.—The representatives of the Big Nine are in session today to consider a number of reforms and questions of controversy, which came up during the past season. The seven-game schedule and the training table are the major topics that will be brought up and there promises to be several changes in the rulings.

It is likely that a seven-game schedule will be resumed.

ITHACANS ARE ALL IN, DOWN AND OUT

Cornell Students Hock Valuables to Eat After Losing on the Penn. Game.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 30.—More than $25,000 was left in Philadelphia by Cornell students and local supporters of Cornell on the Thanksgiving day game with Pennsylvania. Tired, depressed and financially bankrupt undergraduates straggled back into Ithaca, many of them without enough money to buy a meal. The restaurants, hotels and cafes are deserted. Sandwiches and milk are good enough.

Many of the students borrowed from local merchants, and the pawnshops are deluged with watches, cuff buttons, dress suits and even razors which the eager enthusiasts traded for ready cash just before they left for Philadelphia. Many of them bemoaned the absence of their razors because they had not enough money to get a shave in a barber shop.

Christmas presents are to be strictly tabooed, and many an undergraduate has written home asking for advance money to pay his running expenses. The situation on the hill is a miniature representation of the money panic.

Money cannot be had under any consideration, and the worst of it is that the men in town who usually loan money are penniless. Many prominent merchants are situated the same way. Scores of them lost from $100 to $250 each, and many went deeper. When even money failed they were so confident that they took big chances on odds.

COAST CLUB OFFERS PURSE FOR NELSON AND M'FARLAND

Coffroth and Greggains Would Take Fighters for New Year's Day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—For the title that Joe Gans relinquished when he retired from the ring, Battling Nelson and Packy McFarland will meet here in a 20-round bout, if the plans of Jim Coffroth or Alec Greggains materialize.

Coffroth in his opening overtures told the men he would give a purse of $10,000, with the privilege of allowing them to accept half of the gate receipts, for a fight New Year's afternoon. Greggans has offered 60 per cent of the receipts for a 20-round bout.

Al Kaufman, the California heavyweight, is waiting the return of Tommy Burns from England. By his victories over Jack Sullivan and Mike Schreck, Kaufman contends that he is entitled to the first go at the title holder.

TWENTY-TWO IN LONG RUN

Start Will Be Made From Normandy Grove at 2:30.

Frank L. Jackson, who won the initial Bassett 10-mile run last year, is given first place in the forecasts of the result today. The run will be from Normandy Grove to the Missouri Athletic Club, the start being 2:30 o'clock. Twenty-two entries, nine of which are unattached, are expected to contest.

The following are among the entries:

Central Y. M. C. A.—Frank Milhouse, Daniel Grace, W. S. Watson.
South Side Y. M. C. A.—W. H. Brandes.
Frobel A. C.—Walter Sisler.
Missouri University—W. H. Schneider.
Spartan A. C.—Roy Kemper.
Dark Horse A. C.—C. Powers.
Maplewood A. C.—F. H. Watson.
Bassett's team—Frank L. Jackson, W. H. Frisbee, E. H. Powers, W. H. Guest.
Unattached—W. F. Carroll, W. H. Roth, E. J. Murphy, L. Guest, S. E. Overman, C. L. Rumpyl.

ANNUAL GAME OF ARMY-NAVY NOW CLASSIC

Soldiers and Sailors Yearly Struggle Is Unique in American Sporting Events.

SOCIETY TAKES A PART

West Pointers Have Slight Advantage in Past Records and Best Work This Fall.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—The annual gridiron battle between the Army and Navy is an attraction unique in every respect. Aside from being an athletic struggle rivaled only by the annual game between Yale and Harvard, it brings out political and social factions such as are not seen at any other game in the country and is now classic in American sporting events.

Every year the crowds gather from New York, Washington and other Eastern cities just as they are today in Philadelphia, and usually they are about equally divided in giving their support to the teams. One side of the field is given over to the rooters for the Army and the other for the Navy supporters, and seats are engaged weeks in advance on the side desired by the various parties.

There is always a strong representation of Government officials from Washington and they are about equally divided in their support of the two teams.

New Yorkers on Hand.

New York always sends its contingent to the game, and West Point rules as favorite among the Manhattanites. Every one of the 25,000 seats to the grandstand lining Franklin Field was sold a week ago, and it was thought at least 30,000 persons were on hand when the referee's whistle sounded the first kick-off.

Even the Yale-Harvard, Yale-Princeton games fail to attract the distinguished crowds that pack the stands annually to watch the country's future generals and admirals display their mettle.

Sentiment largely governs the betting in this annual battle. Navy backers offered their coin at even money and Army men could not see their team had not an equally good chance. Today, however, the Army ruled a slight favorite and odds of 10 to 9 were offered on the cadets. There were eager takers of all money offered at such odds.

Army Has Confidence.

West Point players displayed the greater confidence. On paper they had a slight advantage. In addition, the Army men were nerved with a determination to wipe out last year's defeat by Annapolis by a good margin victory.

"Of course we'll win," is the Army comment. "We hope to win and think we will," is the Navy version. Weight is with the Navy men, but the cadets' record for the year is better. The Army has a record of 125 points scored to its opponents' 18. The Navy has scored only 112 points to 34 for opposing teams. Two defeats have been registered against the Navy, Swarthmore and Pennsylvania having beaten them. Cornell is the only victor over the Army, at 12 to 10.

West Point's Good Record.

West Point's best game was the no-score contest with Yale.

Her next was with Cornell, also won, but the soldiers made 10 points. The navy has been defeated twice—by both Harvard and Swarthmore. The midshipmen also played a tie game with Vanderbilt and barely beat Penn State. They have an outside feature in their favor, though.

After the Yale-Harvard game last year Foster Rockwell, then head coach at Yale; Burr, Chamberlain and Jack Cates hurried to Annapolis and drilled the future admirals until they beat the army. Rockwell, Chamberlain, Paul Veeder and Knox, head coach at Yale this year, went to Annapolis and helped the entire last week. No doubt they have done wonders with the navy team.

Army Leads in Past.

All the seats on Franklin Field are gone. The former games between West Point and Annapolis have resulted in six victories for the army and five for the navy. The game in 1905 was a tie, each scoring one touchdown and goal.

The scores:

1890—Navy, 24; Army, 0.
1891—Army, 32; Navy, 16.
1892—Navy, 12; Army, 4.
1893—Navy, 6; Army, 4.
1899—Army, 17; Navy, 5.
1900—Navy, 11; Army, 7.
1901—Army, 11; Navy, 5.
1902—Army, 22; Navy, 8.
1903—Army, 40; Navy, 5.
1904—Army, 11; Navy, 0.
1905—Army, 6; Navy, 6.
1906—Navy, 10; Army, 0.

Post-Dispatch's Complete Daily Record of Markets and Finance

IMPROVEMENT IN BANK STATEMENT ADVANCES PRICES

Sustained Gains on the Stock Exchange Visible Sign of Returning Financial Order and Confidence.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The Evening Post in its financial review says:

For the first time since Oct. 19 last—three days before the Knickerbocker failure—today's bank statement showed a distinct improvement in position. But for an increase of $10,000,000 in the loans—undoubtedly due to subscriptions to the Government loans—the decrease in the deficit would have been very large. As it is, cash holdings increased $2,000,000 and the deficit is cut down $1,114,000.

A vigorous and sustained advance on the Stock Exchange today was the outward and visible sign of returning financial confidence and order. Numerous important stocks advanced 1 to 2 points, thus scoring handsome gains for the week. The Stock Exchange had its own special explanations, as usual—"currency reform" appeared to be one of them—but they were in reality superfluous. A market which for a month has drifted on with "bears" in secret but vigorous activity, and with "bulls" tied hand and foot by denial of credit facilities, was certain to rebound with violence when such facilities began to be restored. After a while, the limit of such accommodation will be reached. This week's substantial rise on the Stock Exchange was, immediately, the market's response to the visible signs of return to normal bank conditions.

The course of prices foreshadowed this result with the greatest clearness in the sudden advance of a week ago today, before the community as a whole had realized that resumption of full cash payments was so near. That the stock market should have fallen immediately into weakness on the announcement of the Treasury's plan Nov. 18, and should have greeted the abandonment of the scheme this week by a vigorous recovery, was partly mere coincidence. Nevertheless, it cannot be overlooked that, so far as concerns the power of banks to help out commercial and financial clients by use of credit, such facilities must have been curtailed in proportion as bank resources were invested in Government bonds and notes. If a bank lends a million dollars to the Government, it certainly cannot lend the same million to its customers. This phase of the matter was ignored by advocates of the Treasury plan, in a degree which is hard to understand.

Such of the mischief involved in the Treasury experiment as could be undone has been dealt with by this week's stopping of the sale of notes. That action, taken along with the rise in stocks and the fall in currency premium to almost nominal figures, will clear up a good many minds, and will lift the mental fog through which scores of usually sound and clear-sighted financial authorities have been groping. It will, in particular, bring the light to London and convince the hopelessly misguided advisers of our policies that American financers of experience and conservatism may be depended on, now as always, to deal with their own situation rightly.

When one endeavors to explain the remarkable chapter of suggestions and incidents in this matter of "government relief" there is no other admissible theory than that of contagious panic. It is somewhat too much the habit to ascribe such financial disasters as that which has confronted us, to fright and mistrust among the masses. The truth is, that the public at large would by no means be hard to deal with, if people in high places did not also lose their heads. It may be safely affirmed that we have really witnessed, these past six weeks, no less than five panic demonstrations each in a different quarter and each with phenomena peculiar to itself. The public's wild alarm, and the run of depositors on banking institutions, naturally came first. It was speedily followed by a panic among the banks themselves when credit was for the moment absolutely refused, thus blocking relief through foreign markets and threatening suspension of the stock exchange. There is always such a moment at the beginning of a serious panic, a fact which shows the reason for the reiterated rule laid down in the celebrated bullion report of 1810, that banks in a panic time not only should, but must discount freely and fearlessly for all solvent customers, but at the market price for money.

With the New York banks this panic was hardly more than momentary; it was followed by what was much like a hoarding mania by interior banks, which, for a week or two undoubtedly heaped up in their reserves very much more currency than was needed. Just when these institutions had recovered equanimity and were handling the crisis effectively, financial London fell into the extraordinary mental panic out of which came its wild appeal to our Government for illegal and revolutionary action. Finally, that the Government itself fell under the same contagion, cannot well be denied, in the light of the past two weeks' events.

But the fever is now over and danger of further contagion probably exists no longer. With a clearer view of the whole situation, past and present, the community is looking to the future. It will have problems enough to solve in readjusting its business affairs and its scale of living to the new conditions; but it will enter upon the new order of things with the resolute firmness of mind and the cheerful optimism for the longer future, which are the finest traits of American character at such times. That the country will not have to face a struggle for depreciated money, as it did in 18[illegible] is a cause for profoundest gratitude.

Foolish and extravagant plans for new laws of bank note issues, we shall have in plenty, they will possibly block the path of proper measures of reform; but, after all, congressional committees have their pigeonholes. As for proposals of the distinctly populistic and "wild eyed" sort, we have Mr. Bryan always with us and if such schemes exist in the human brain, he may be counted on to discover them. It is an easy and harmless outlet.

St. Louis Stock Exchange.

United Railways preferred was the center of attraction at the short session of the St. Louis Stock Exchange Saturday. There was unusual activity in this security; 140 shares of it have been sold at an average price of 57.87½. At the beginning of business 100 shares were sold at 57¾, and this price was advanced to 58 towards the close.

Railways common was bid up to 21¼, but there were no offerings at less than 25.

There seems to be a slow but steady advance in all issues of the United Railways Co.

ARSENIC CAUSED DEATH OF RICH YOUNG MAN

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—Poisoning by arsenic caused the death of Walter E. Baker of Wellesley, Mass, at Bogota, N. J., last month, according to a report forwarded to Baker's relatives today by experts who have examined the body. Young Baker was wealthy. Edward Baker, a brother, is contesting a will which was executed a short time before young Baker died.

According to the New Jersey authorities Baker's death was due to pneumonia. The experts declare the belief that the poison was administered in small doses from time to time.

FINANCIAL ITEMS

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The official returns of mining in Great Britain in 1906 give the value of the coal raised during the year as roundly $500,000,000—an increase of $50,000,000 over 1905. This increase was due partly to enlarged output and partly to higher prices. The yield of iron, lead, tin and copper from British mines was of greater value and quantity in 1906 than in 1905.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Governor-General Smith of the Philippines cabled Maj. McIntyre, acting chief of the Insular Bureau of the War Department, yesterday to the effect that the last $1,000,000 of Manila sewer and waterworks bonds will not be offered for sale on Jan. 1 next as was originally contemplated. They will not be put on the market until July 1, 1908.

Already $3,000,000 of the $4,000,000 authorized have been disposed of, but the work has not progressed sufficiently to demand the sale of the remaining $1,000,000 at the present time.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—One unfortunate feature noted in connection with the wholesale return of Italian and other immigrants to their native lands this year, lies in the fact that these persons are taking with them almost $100,000,000 of United States money. It is unsatisfactory to have these foreigners, who never even took the first steps toward citizenship in this country, remove from current circulation here so large an amount of money, which might better have been employed in restoring circulation to its normal channels. If this money could have been used for such a purpose there would have been little need for the importation from England and France of $100,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Treasury statement: Receipts, $1,728,265; expenditures, $1,850,000.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Close; Prime mercantile paper, 7@8 per cent; commercial bills, 4.80@4.80½; bar silver, 57⅝; Mexican dollars, 45⅝c; Government bonds steady; railroad bonds strong.

Now that the premium on currency has been reduced to a merely nominal fixure—the lowest since the beginning of the money stringency—it appears likely that the clearing house certificates soon will be withdrawn and retired.

Strength in the bonds of the leading railroads and industrial companies shows that the pressure to unload such securities in order to obtain cash is being eliminated.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Though not encouraging speculative purchases on margin, many prominent commission houses are more inclined to carry high-class securities for their customers upon a reasonably wide margin. Most of them, however, refuse to put up the margin required in short selling on the ground that by so doing they would be assisting in unsettling the market.

St. Louis bank clearings and balances: Clearings for Saturday, $5,099,545; this week, five days, $47,616,980; last week, $57,033,388; corresponding week last year, five days, $54,975,771; this month, ending today, $233,184,307; corresponding month last year, $266,202,495. Balances for today, $821,837; this week, five days, $3,561,459; last week, $4,635,993; corresponding week last year, five days, $2,774,506; this month, ending today, $18,695,297; corresponding month last year, $19,175,547.

The New York bank statement for the week, five days: Reserve, increase, $1,114,175; reserve less U. S., increase, $1,525,750; loans, increase, $10,080,100; specie, increase, $1,755,500; circulation, increase, $2,862,400; legals, increase, $224,800; deposits, increase, $3,464,500.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Directors of Sears, Roebuck & Co. have declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable Jan. 1. The transfer books close Dec. 15 and reopen Jan. 2.

THE INDUSTRIALS

CHICAGO TRACTION CO.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—With the announcement that a large majority of the bonds and receivers' certificates of the Chicago Union Traction Co. and its underlying companies have been deposited with the Harris Trust and Savings Bank in Chicago and in the Farmers' Loan and Trust Co. of New York, the success of the modified plan for the reorganization of the Chicago street traction system now is assured.

The total securities which have been deposited by their holders, in accordance with the modified plan of Oct. 15, now include $12,587,500 in the bonds of the various street car companies in Chicago and $2,575,500 in receivers' certificates and floating debt securities, making a total of $15,113,000. In addition to this the reorganization committee has received assurances and pledges from the holders of large amounts of bonds that deposits thereof will be made before the expiration of the time limit on Dec. 3.

REPUBLIC IRON AND STEEL.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 30.—The Republic Iron and Steel Co. and some smaller concerns have started their works in full.

It is announced in Pittsburg that the Valley Iron Works of the Republic company at Youngstown started in full yesterday, as did the Grown-Bonnell Iron Works of the same concern near Youngstown.

The Republic company has many orders in and such faith in conditions that the works were started full blast and the semi-official announcement was made that the big Republic plant at Youngstown will be started next week.

The Shenango Iron and Steel Co. plant at Wheatland, Pa., which has been closed for some time, also has started in full and will run night and day.

UNITED STATES STEEL.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Because some of the recent unloading of United States Steel stocks has emanated from employes of a brokerage house in Pittsburg which is known to act for Henry C. Frick, it is thought in some quarters that this liquidation came about as a result of inside information regarding the Steel Corporation's plans. It is more probable that the liquidation by the Pittsburg commission house employes is due to their need of ready money. They are obtaining it by selling securities held by Pittsburg investors.

AMERICAN SMELTERS.

New York—N. J. Miller of Miller & Co. says: "With reference to Smelters, I have reason to believe that the regular dividend will be declared next Wednesday. The stock therefore, looks like a great bargain around 70. It is only a short 18 months ago that everybody was crazy for it at 170.

"It is 100 points lower now and none so poor to do it reverence. It is a fact not very generally recognized that $10,000,000 has been spent for betterments on the property over and above earnings and dividends paid. If the industrial situation next year gets weak it is more than likely that Smelters will increase instead of decrease their earnings owing to the low prices of the metal supplies.

"The company's agreement with the National Lead Co. is that the latter company agrees to take all the lead it uses from the Smelters company for the next 30 years. This is a distinctly powerful bull argument on the stock. It looks to me like an intensely cheap stock."

DEATHS.

DOE—On Saturday, Nov. 30, 1907, at 7 a. m., Bridget Doe (nee McDonald), beloved wife of Thomas Doe and daughter of Ann McDonald (nee O'Malley) and the late John McDonald and mother of Mary Doe, aged 41 years.

Funeral Monday, Dec. 3, at 2 p. m., from family residence, 122 Clark avenue, to Cathedral Church, thence to Calvary Cemetery.

LATE COVERING ADVANCES WHEAT

Early Hours Extremely Dull, but Large Buying Developed Near End.

CLOSED OVER CENT UP

Corn Strong and Oats Dull and Firm—Cash Prices Again Firm.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS IN BRIEF

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—The market became strong under buying by leading elevator interests, who took December freely. The high point reached by the May option was $1.03⅞. The close was strong at an advance of 1¼@1⅜c to ½@⅝c at $1.03⅜; December ranged between 94⅜c and 96⅜c, and closed at 96⅜c.

The strength acquired by the wheat market helped corn. May touched 51c and closed firm at 50⅞@51c, a net advance of ⅝@⅞c to ⅞@1c.

Oats closed quiet and ⅛@⅜c higher.

In the last half hour of trading on the local grain exchange Saturday prices, after being almost stagnant earlier, were bid up sharply under liberal short covering, and the close was 1⅛c to 1½c higher for the day. Liverpool cables closed ⅛d lower, Antwerp wheat ⅝c lower, Berlin wheat ⅛c lower and Budapest wheat ¼c lower.

The early market was the most listless and dull affair for some time. The universal weakness in foreign markets, not only in futures, but on spot wheat and in export bids, caused an easier opening, and some scattered selling was also caused by the declines in both American and Argentine wheat at Antwerp and a lowering of 3d in the prices asked by Argentine exporters. Receipts in the Northwest continued liberal, but the cash demand in that region was again firm, though practically no foreign buying was in evidence. The early response of wheat to the big, strong security market and the generally more favorable monetary conditions was disappointing to the bulls, but at the same time offerings were small, and it was hard to buy wheat. Prices up to within a short time before the close moved slowly and kept within a small fraction of Wednesday's close.

December wheat opened ⅛c lower at 93⅛c, sold at 93⅜c and was bid up to 93⅞c. May wheat opened ⅛c lower at $1.01⅝, sold at $1.01⅝, advanced to $1.01⅞, declined to $1.01⅝@1.01¾ and sold at $1.01¾. July wheat was inactive, opening with bids at 94⅛c, and being later bid up to 94½c.

Late in the session the bank statement, though rather irregular, was generally favorably construed and this, with the continued strength in stocks, caused urgent covering among the sellers of the forenoon and prices were bid up in hurricane fashion. The close was at the day's high point.

December wheat advanced to 95⅜c and closed at 95¼c sellers. May advanced to $1.03⅝ and closed at $1.03⅝, and July was bid for at the close at 95½c.

Offerings of cash wheat continued light, the demand fair and prices firm. Total receipts of wheat at all Western primary markets were 1,252,406 bu, against 1,225,420 bu last year, and shipments were 870,747 bu, against 461,000 bu last year. Chicago received 36,800 bu wheat and Kansas City 78,000 bu. Local receipts of wheat were 25,999 bu, against 29,985 bu last year, and shipments were 73,300 bu. Clearances of wheat and flour for the day were 138,000 bu.

A fair amount of activity developed in the corn market, which from the first ruled firm. Cables on corn closed ⅜d lower, but the light deliveries on December contracts, small stocks and very moderate receipts caused good buying at the start, early prices moving at about ¼c higher levels. The shipping demand from the East continues good. Offerings in the local market were small and when the sharp upturn in wheat occurred corn advanced in sympathy, the close on the latter grain being ⅛c to 1⅛c higher for the day.

The cash demand for corn was slow, but offerings were light, and prices were about steady. Primary receipts of corn were 230,720 bu, against 327,505 bu last year, and shipments were 227,614 bu, against 337,000 bu last year. Local receipts of corn were 23,100 bu, against 41,510 bu last year, and shipments were 9665 bu. Corn clearances were 12,000 bu.

RAILROAD NEWS AND GOSSIP.

PERE MARQUETTE RAILWAY.

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—The protective committee of the Pere Marquette Railroad preferred shareholders has notified the subscribers to the 6-per-cent five-year debenture bonds of the reorganized Pere Marquette Co., that such satisfactory progress already has been made by it that the first installment of 15 per cent need not be paid on these debentures until Dec. 20. Subsequent calls are expected to be made as follows: 10 per cent on Feb. 1, 1908; 15 per cent on March 1, 1908; 25 per cent on April 1, 1908; 25 per cent on May 1, 1908, and 10 per cent on June 1, 1908.

MISSOURI PACIFIC.

It is suggested by some traders that friends of E. H. Harriman are making a wholesale attack on all the Gould stocks as a retaliation for the support of Stuyvesant Fish by George J. Gould in the Illinois Central fight. Other authorities believe the drop in Missouri Pacific is being caused by further forced liquidation of weak holdings. From the fact that Mr. Gould and his associates have not extended any support to Missouri Pacific, it appears obvious that he is planning to continue his policy of permitting his stocks to take their own course.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—William F. Goltra, chief clerk of the purchasing department of the Lake Shore, Lake Erie & Western, and Chicago, Indiana & Southern, has been appointed tie agent of all New York Central lines west of Buffalo, with headquarters in Cleveland. The position is a new one and means that Mr. Goltra will have charge of the inspection and buying of ties for 8000 miles of road. Heretofore this has been done by chief engineers and other officials.

L. G. Murphy, assistant to the principal engineer of the New York Central in New York, has been promoted to assistant engineer of maintenance of way and construction of the Boston & Albany at Boston.

The women of the First Baptist Church will give a bazar and supper Dec. 6. The Ladies' Aid Society, Matrons' Club, Win Won Club and the Novelty Club, all church societies, will have charge of the details.

LION ATTACKS TAMER AS HE SMILES AT HIS FIANCEE

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 30.—The life of Louis Roth, lion tamer for the Bostock shows at an amusement resort here, came near being forfeit for a smile bestowed by Roth on his sweetheart, Mercedes Lamonte, while he was in a cage full of lions. Roth's attention, bestowed on Miss Lamonte for an instant, gave "Atlas," a big lion, a chance to spring on the tamer and fasten his claws in the man's leg.

Miss Lamonte was almost as quick as Atlas, however. She fired a revolver into the brute's face and he, realizing that he was still mastered, released his hold on Roth. The lion tamer will smile more sweetly than ever on his sweetheart hereafter, but he will do it outside the lion cage.

LIVESTOCK.

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Ill., Nov. 30.—Estimated receipts today compare with a week ago and a year ago as follows:

	Today.	Week ago.	Year ago.
Cattle	1,500	1,500	800
Hogs	3,000	4,500	2,500
Sheep	600	....	300
Horses and mules	25	....	100

The day's receipts embraced about 1100 native and 400 Southern cattle and practically the entire supply consisted of cows of fair to good quality, for which trading was fairly active at steady values.

WEEK JUST CLOSED ONE OF STRONG COTTON PRICES

Doubt Expressed Among Experts as to Cause of Large Advance.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The week has been one of quite sensational development and a strong upward movement of values of about $5 a bale. The advance as looked upon by some of the best interests in the trade has been speculative, while others are expressing confident belief that the market is reflecting the smaller crop estimates. To all appearances there has been no change in the actual supply or demand for cotton. The world's idea of the crop centers around 11,750,000 to 12,000,000 bales of cotton, as shown by the average of the different exchange estimates, which is as much under the general idea as some of the bear estimates a short time ago were over.

STATE'S RIGHTS ARE UPHELD BY FEDERAL JUDGE

Kansas City Jurist Says Government Has Stretched Authority.

A DISSENTING OPINION

Phillips Holds Railroads Wholly Within States Are Immune.

In dissenting from the majority opinion of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals that State railroads carrying interstate goods are subject to the interstate commerce laws, Judge John F. Philips of Kansas City takes a firm stand for State rights.

The decision was handed down in the case of the Government against the Colorado & Northwestern Railroad Co., owning a 40-mile narrow-guage road in Boulder County, Colo.

In sustaining the suit of the Government for penalties for the railroad's failure to properly equip its freight cars with the air-brakes required by the Federal Interstate Commerce Commission, Judges Sanborn and Van Devanter, in the majority opinion, reversed the decision of the United States District Court of Colorado and remanded the case for a new trial. A verdict for the railroad had been directed by the Colorado court and returned.

This will mean Federal supremacy over the State in railroad regulation.

Judge Philips says: "The philanthropic feature of this prosecution is but the rose in the mailed hand.

"The advanced doctrine of the majority opinion, respecting the extension of Federal jurisdiction under the interstate commerce clause of the Constitution conflicts with some deeply rooted notions entertained by me respecting Federal limitations of power.

"The right of the State to grant charters whose functions are to be exercised solely within the territorial limits of its sovereignty is unquestionable. So long as it exercises only the powers granted and performs only the functions incident to its creation, it is not subject to the supervision of interference of the Federal government.

"While the power to regulate commerce with foreign nations and among the several states is conferred on Congress, the exclusive jurisdiction of the State over interstate commerce is reserved to the State.

"How a railroad chartered by and exclusively operated within the State shall be equipped, and what shall be its limits respecting the carriage of freights and towards its employes, are within the exclusive jurisdiction and discretion of the State.

"I deny the power of Congress to step in and say to this creation of the State, thus acting within the terms of its charter: 'You shall not carry the article unless you dismantle your car of the equipments permitted by the State and equip it in such fashion as Congress directs, and if you do not comply you will be penalized to the extent of the discretion of Congress.'

"The very men who designate themselves as 'inspectors,' who discovered this inconsequential, neighborhood road out in the mountains of Colorado, testified that they were acting under the Interstate Commerce Commission."

GOOD JOKE TOLD AT DINNER CAUSES DEATH OF WOMAN

Aged Mrs. Schweitzer's Continued Mirth Results in Fatal Hemorrhage.

A fit of uncontrollable laughter caused by a joke at the Thanksgiving dinner table at the Good Samaritan Hospital caused the death of Mrs. Mary M. Schweitzer, 83 years old, who was buried Saturday.

Mrs. Schweitzer had eaten a hearty meal and was sitting at the table with other patients when one of them made a remark which struck her as so funny that she laughed. She continued to laugh and the efforts of nurses and doctors to check her mirth were unavailing. The exertion caused a hemorrhage and she died an hour later.

Mrs. Schweitzer was the mother of Nick Karr, former superintendent of the City Workhouse.

CITY LICENSE SAVES DOG'S LIFE

Big Newfoundland, Although Guilty of Canine Murder, Is Spared.

A dog which kills another dog may not be executed for murder if it is duly licensed and registered with the city, according to a decision of the police. Men serving terms for manslaughter will be likely to quarrel at this discrimination in favor of animals.

Jack, the great Newfoundland of Mrs. Elmer D. Sanford, 4752 Cote Brilliante avenue, seized the little Yorkshire terrier pet dog of Mrs. W. H. Urquhart, 4615A Easton avenue, Thursday, and shook it to death. Jack then bit Mrs. Urquhart's hand when she sprang too late to the rescue of her pet.

"I haven't any children, Mrs. Urquhart tearfully explained to neighbors, "but if I had a dozen I couldn't think any more of them than I did of my pet dog.

NEW CAMBRIA CRACKSMEN GET $200 OF CHURCH FUNDS

Thieves Rob Blacksmith Shop of Tools Which They Use in Wrecking Safe.

NEW CAMBRIA, Mo., Nov. 30.—The safe of Roberts & Thomas, merchants, was blown last night and several hundred dollars taken. A Thanksgiving feast was given by the churches, and the entire proceeds, amounting to $200, had been left in the safe last night.

A blacksmith shop was broken into and tools were obtained with which to do the work.

COUNT ENGAGED TO 3 HEIRESSES? "NO," SAY GIRLS

Young Women Frenchman Claimed to Have Fascinated Repudiated Him.

CHASED AWAY BY ONE

Beaufort Goes to Miss Humphreys' Window at Night, but Soon Departs.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Arriving with a blare of trumpets and a bulldog aboard the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, M. Le Comte Van Mourik de Beaufort, of Luxembourg, burst upon the startled gaze of New York last March and began a career of conquest in the heart-breaking line.

He bore letters of introduction to two or three prominent New Yorkers, and soon met some others. For a time during the latter part of his stay here he was put up at the Union Club. He and his trusty bulldog "Bob" became familiar figures along Fifth avenue, and the little Count cut a swath.

Now he has gone back to Luxembourg, and, if his own statements may believed, he is a wonder. For M. le Comte Van Mourik de Beaufort was not satisfied with becoming engaged to one girl, but said, shortly before his departure about two weeks ago on the Amerika, that he had become engaged to three girls, all daughters of multi-millionaires, and told their names.

Girls' Story Different.

Unfortunately for the Comte, the girls tell a different story. First of all, he said that his heart and hand had been accepted by Miss Firth, daughter of William Firth of Brookline, Mass. Absolute denial today met the report that Miss Firth was engaged to le Comte Van Mourik de Beaufort.

Next the Count declared the object of his affections was Miss Genevieve Gibbs, daughter of W. Gibbs of Philadelphia. Miss Gibbs says he met her last summer, that she talked to him about fifteen minutes and that was the end of it.

Third, was Miss Helen Humphreys, daughter of F. L. Humphreys of Morristown, N. J.

"What! My daughter engaged to the Count de Beaufort! Most certainly not; she has too much sense," was the reply of Dr. F. Landon Humphreys, when asked concerning the assertion of Le Comte Van Mourik de Baufort.

Chased Away by Girl.

Dr. Humphreys said that two weeks ago his daughter, an accomplished musician, was practicing in the music room about 8:30 p. m. She heard a tapping on the window, and thinking it a joke of one of her young brothers, turned off the electric light and raised the window, saying: "You can't fool me; I know who it is." She saw a dark figure under the window which answered her, saying: "This is the Count."

"The Count?" said Miss Humphreys. "What Count?"

"This is the Count de Beaufort," said the man.

"You are a tresspasser, get right off this place," cried the young woman.

"Won't you please come with me?" pleaded the nobleman.

"You go away at once!" cried Miss Humphreys, thoroughly enraged, "or I'll set the dogs on you and call the men from the stable."

Chicago Girl Gives Up Count.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—An unpaid bill of $65 is the paltry item which has led to the breaking off of the engagement of Miss Virginia Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Jackson, and Count Fritz Bon von Michaelis, according to friends of the Jackson family. The count learned, it is said, that a certain periodical intended publishing the announcement of the count's engagement to Miss Jackson, giving a description of his estates in Pomerania. He hurried to the publishers and was just in time to have the objectionable matter lifted from the forms, for which he promised to pay $65. When he didn't pay, the bill was sent to Miss Jackson, who also declined to pay.

BOYS ARRAIGNED FOR THEFT: EACH CALLS OTHER "GONIF"

Ghetto Youngsters Are Accused of Stealing a Pocketbook Belonging to School Janitress.

Little Meyer Slein, aged 10, and Isadore Weinstein, aged 8, two Ghetto youngsters who were arrested on charges of stealing a purse containing $18 belonging to Mrs. Kuffmann, janitress of the Jefferson School, Ninth and Wash streets, were arraigned in the Juvenile Court, Saturday morning.

The small prisoners almost took the breath away from Assistant Chief of Detectives McCarthy, when brought before him Friday, by accusing each other of dozens of thefts. Each one declared the other was "the worstest gonif." The word "gonif" is Yiddish for thief.

"I don't steal," said Isadore Weinstein, "because I got a father and he would lick me if I did. Meyer ain't got no father."

"But me mudder licks me," interrupted Meyer," and Izzie is worster than I am."

The little fellows told McCarthty that "in the old country" the death penalty was meted out to "gonifs" but neither would admit he wanted the other hung, even though a "gonif."

"DO NOT SPIT IN THIS CAR"

Railways Company Tacks Signs in the Interest of Health.

The United Railways' Co. has undertaken to impress upon the riding public that spitting in the street cars will not be tolerated. A new set of commandments on this subject has been issued. Metal signs have been nailed up in all the cars which read:

"You must not spit in this car."

"Do not spit in this car."

These signs are so numerous, there being six to eight in each car, that they can hardly pass unnoticed. In addition placards, containing copies of the anti-spitting ordinance, are nailed up conspicuously.

Thirty Men Dropped.

Thirty men, 18 inspectors and 12 foremen, were dropped from the city payroll Saturday by Street Commissioner Travilla. These men have been employed on new construction and reconstruction. The inspectors drew $75 a month and the foremen $60. Travilla also announced that he would dispense with 20 wagons and their drivers, hired at $4,25 a day each.

SIX CHILDREN SEE FATHER SLAY THEIR MOTHER

Angered Husband Shoots Self After Firing Fatal Shot at His Wife.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—John Homan shot his wife to death in the presence of their six small children, who vainly sought to prevent the father from accomplishing his purpose, and then fired a bullet into his own head at their home in Elmhurst, early today.

The woman was killed instantly, and the man is dying.

Attracted by the sound of angry words between their parents, the children, none of whom is older than 13 years, crowded in terror in the kitchen of their home.

The woman had left the man about a month ago, alleging cruel treatment and was suing for a divorce. He was jealous.

"So you will not live with me again? Then I'm going to kill you, and right now, too!" said Homan.

Before the eyes of the terrified little ones the man drew a revolver and held it towards his wife. She had raised her hands in appeal when the oldest child, a girl 13 years old, cried out:

"Pa, don't shoot mother. Christmas is coming, remember."

Almost immediately a shot rang out and the mother, with a bullet in her side, sank to the floor. Then the man placed the weapon to his head and pulled the trigger.

The children ran screaming from the house and alarmed the neighbors.

PICTURE WON MISS SHONTS AS DUKE'S BRIDE

American Girl Fell in Love With Caulnes' Photograph at Sister's Home.

WAS ENGAGED BEFORE

Marriage Will Open Brilliant Career in Paris to Couple.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1907, by the Press Pub. Co. (New York World.)

PARIS, Nov. 30.—All Paris is talking of the approaching marriage of Miss Theodora Shonts and the Duke of Chaulnes. Society is divided into two camps over it. One declares that the marriage will be a great mistake, because the Duke is not received according to his rank on account of his acceptance of the Republic. Others say, on the contrary, that a brilliant career will be open to the bride; that she will be received in the very heart of Faubourg St. Germain society. The Duke's faults are regarded in Paris rather as a sowing of wild oats than as settled habits.

The Duke intends to try to get into the Chamber of Deputies on the Republican platform and he probably will succeed. He is a great personal friend of Count Boni de Castellane.

Gambled Away Fortune.

Of course, Chaulnes has not been a model young man. He has gambled away his original fortune, estimated at $10,000, but he asserts that gambling never has had a real hold upon him. He is particularly well known in sporting and art circles of Paris, and considered an expert in old furniture, curiosities, bric-a-brac, etc. He also is a first-rate musician.

The mother of the Duke was Princess Galitzine, through whom the Duke is related to the Potocki family, whose house in the Avenue Friedland the Duke will inherit.

Princess Galitzine herself had an unhappy life. She lived after marriage in the house of her mother-in-law, the Duchess of Chevreuse, who was very austere and made the life of the Princess unendurable. Consequently, she fled with the Count, now Marquis Dion, the great motorist and aeronaut, then considered one of the handsomest men in Paris. After a while they quarreled and the young Duchess lived in dire poverty until her death, which followed soon. A faithful maid cared for her to the last and procured the means for her burial.

Her children were brought up by their grandmother. The Duke of Chaulnes was at one time engaged to Miss Gebhard, but her family broke off the engagement. His name also has been associated with those of several other young women.

Fell in Love With Picture.

Miss Shonts first saw the portrait of the Duke in an album at the home of his sister, the Duchess D'Uzes, whom she knew, and fell in love with it. The Duchess, well pleased with the prospect, brought Miss Shonts and the Duke together, and did everything in her power to bring about the match.

Mr. Shonts was at first quite opposed to the match, mainly on his general dislike of foreign marriages; but charming women, such as the Duchess D'Uzes, gradually sapped his resistance. The Duke himself went over to America specially to persuade "papa," as he calls Mr. Shonts. Miss Shonts will by this marriage be allied with many powerful families.

Urchin Begs Policeman for Food and a Place to Sleep.

Tired, hungry and shivering with cold, a mite of a boy approached Policeman C. J. Smith at Eighteenth and Olive streets Friday night and begged the officer to find him a place to sleep.

"I ain't got no home. I ain't had no sleep for three days, and I ain't had nothing to eat to speak of," said he iad. He gave his name as Howard Hall and said he was 9 years old.

Smith got the boy something to eat and then took him to Central District Station.

"My mother's dead and I ain't seen my father for such a long time that I don't know but what he's dead, too. I used to live with Mrs. Dunbar at 1401 Pine street, but she moved away and then I went to live with Mrs. Gardner at 110 Market street. She moved last Tuesday while I was out playing and now I ain't got no place to stop."

The case will be referred to the Juvenile Court. The police will make an effort to find Howard's father and compel him to take care of the boy.

"There's a Reason"

MRS. RUTLEDGE UNABLE TO WORK AS A DOMESTIC

Wife of Rich Coal Dealer Gives Reasons for Asking Alimony.

That she is unable to obtain employment as a servant because she is not healthy enough to work, is the allegation of Mrs. Mary Rutledge, 3832 Russell avenue, who says her husband is worth $300,000.

The statement was made in a petition filed by Mrs. Rutledge in the Circuit Court, asking alimony pending the trial of the suit for divorce brought by James E. Rutledge, president of the Rutledge-Taylor Coal Co.

At her home Saturday Mrs. Rutledge refused to say whether she actually has sought employment as a servant.

"I can't talk about that at all. I can't say anything about my petition for maintenance," she said.

Charges Wife With Jealousy.

Rutledge filed his suit a month ago, alleging that his wife was inordinately jealous. On Nov. 6 Judge Foster ordered Rutledge to pay his wife $648 for clothing and fuel, $750 for her attorney's fees in defending the suit and $100 a month alimony pending the trial. Rutledge appealed from this order and the Court of Appeals has not yet passed upon it.

In her petition for support Mrs. Rutledge says she has not sufficient clothing, food or fuel and no means to maintain the 10-room house which her husband turned over to her when they separated last July.

Daughter and Mother Apart.

There are two children, Hatie, aged 19, and Walter, 15.

The daughter is estranged from her mother and is living away from home under the protection of her father. The son is with Mrs. Rutledge. At the hearing of Mrs. Rutledge's first petition for alimony the daughter testified that her mother did the housework and washing and ironing and made one dress last her three or four years.

The Old Way.

A fine specimen of "scold's chair" is among the remaining contents of Sherfield Manor, Basingstoke, England. It dates from 1723, and is in oak, and is elaborately carved in high relief in bold scroll ornament. The seat is worked by a lever from behind, and the sitter is locked in by falling arched bars in front.

WIFE ADMIRES BRYAN, IS PLEA IN DIVORCE SUIT

Mrs. Anna A. Wilder Says She and Husband Are Uncongenial.

Mrs. Anna A. Wilder, a niece of the late Dr. A. C. Bernays, laughed heartily when she learned that Andrew Wilder, rich landowner and quarryman at St. Genevieve, charges in his answer to her divorce petition that her political predilections made her neglect him.

Mrs. Wilder is at 1004A North King's highway with her three sons, Bernays, 14 years old, Andre, 9, and Carol, 4. She came to St. Louis Oct. 1 after her second separation from her husband, and filed the suit.

Wilder filed his answer Friday, complaining that during the summer of 1906 his wife attended political meetings, among them one at Flat River, leaving him at home to the "tender mercies of the hired girl."

"The rally at Flat River," Mrs. Wilder explained when her laughter had subsided, "was when Mr. Bryan spoke there last fall—just a year ago. I was one of many who went down to the station to see Mr. Bryan's special train and hear him speak from the platform.

She Admires Bryan and Folk.

"Several members of the Reception Committee at St. Genevieve went over to Flat River and took their wives with them, and one of them told me just before the train started that his wife wanted me to go. There was only time to send word home by my mother and ask her to look after the boys. I was delighted at the opportunity to see Mr. Bryan, whom I admire very much. I admire Gov. Folk, too, and this seems to provoke my husband, who is an ardent Republican, although he has never held office.

"The special train left St. Genevieve at 7 p. m. and returned at 11. On one other occasion I attended a political meeting in order to hear several prominent public men speak. I like to talk to intelligent people and to hear them talk. Mr. Wilder complains that I called him a Dutchman. Well, I'll admit that perhaps I did do that.

"As to politics, those two occasions are the only two instances I recall when my irrepressible political tendencies got the better of me.

"Mr. Wilder complains that I took the children to a circus and left him at home. The truth is that he left home at 5 o'clock in the morning and spent the day at the circus grounds, and when the children and I arrived in the afternoon he ignored a request I sent to him by one of the boys to come and sit with us.

Husband and Wife Uncongenial.

"Mr. Wilder and I are absolutely uncongenial, and it is wrong for persons to live together when that is so. I call it a sin, and I feel that it was a sin to my boys to go back to Mr. Wilder after our first separation. I thought it was best when I did it.

"Mr. Wilder owns 3000 acres of land along the river, and the home is on a 300-acre tract.

"All his charges are absolutely false. It is true that I took the children driving in the evening. I invariably asked Mr. Wilder to go too, and he invariably refused. I never went out unless the children accompanied me. Our home is a mile and a half from town, and on hot summer days, after their bath, the drive was the chief pleasure the boys had."

HOUSEHOLD TWICE DISTURBED; HUNT THIEVES, FIND TURTLES

Schuler's Dog "Corners" Prowlers, Who Become Lively on Supper of Flaxseed and Leave Tub.

Joseph Schuler, saloonist at Eleventh street and Clark avenue, thought burglars were in his house at 1 a. m. Saturday when he was awakened by the barking of his dog. He sat up in bed and heard the shuffling of feet on the floor below. Then he got his pistol and crept downstairs. When Schuler reached the bottom of the stairs the dog quit barking and the noise of shuffling feet ceased.

He searched about, but could find no trace of burglars. Then he went back to bed only to be again disturbed a few minutes later by the same noise which had greeted his ears before. Again he searched the premises. Four times Schuler got out of bed, grabbed his pistol and went on a burglar hunt. He made the final trip accompanied by all the members of his household. The lights were turned on. Behind a door in the front of the house the procession stopped. The dog had the "burglars" cornered. They were two huge turtles which had become lively on a supper of flaxseed and had crawled out of their tub.

FIREMAN, BITTEN BY HORSE, ILL FROM BLOOD POISONING

Henry Holten, a fireman at No. 2 engine house, is in a serious condition at his home on Gross avenue, East St. Louis, as a result of blood poisoning from a horse bite. Tuesday he attempted to replace a twitch on a horse that was being shod at the engine house, and the horse bit him in the left hand.

Little was thought of the injury at the time, but when the hand and arm begun to pain him he went to a physician and was told that the injury was dangerous.

DIES WITH DUSTPAN IN HAND

Aged Woman Succumbs While Working in Basement.

Lying on her back with a dustpan in her hand, Mrs. Teletta Otten, 71 years old, was found dead in the basement of the flat at 4859 Page boulevard Friday evening. The discovery was made by Mrs. Mary Reckinger, occupant of the lower flat.

With her husband Mrs. Reckinger carried the body to the second floor, where Mrs. Otten had lived with her daughter, Mrs. Fred Mueller. Dr. F. P. Parker of 1423 Euclid avenue said death was caused by heart disease.

TRAIN CUTS OFF MAN'S LEGS

Unidentified Man Run Down on Wabash Tracks.

A man whose name has not been learned by the police was run over by a Wabash train at the Ohio avenue crossing of that road about 9 a. m. Saturday. The man's legs were cut off. An ambulance was rushed to the scene and the injured man taken to the City Hospital. It was feared that he might not live to reach the hospital.

Dead Beetle in Child's Ear.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 30.—Surgical experts who opened the ear of 9-year-old Somers Braddock of Bakersville to discover the cause of headaches which had been worrying the child for months, found a dead beetle in the inner ear.

First Thing

"When I Feel Bad"

writes Mrs. R. H. Cox, of Jasper, Ala., "the first thing I do is to take a dose of Cardui, and it relieves.

"I have kept Cardui in the house now for about 12 years, am nearly 50 years old, and have no female trouble, like so many women.

"What a wonderful medicine Cardui is! I wish I could put it into every home in the world. When any woman is at my house, and complains, I just give her a dose of Cardui. I am glad to tell other women what it has done for me. I tell women, right before the doctors, to get themselves a bottle of Cardui, and they won't need any doctors.

"Before I began to take Cardui, I was very sick with female troubles, and the doctors said I could not get well without an operation, so I just stopped fooling with the doctors and began taking Cardui, which cured me, sound and well. I have not had to go to bed a day since I first took Cardui." Sold everywhere. Try it.
